

State Asks Restudy On a Remap Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — Missouri filed a petition in U. S. Supreme Court today asking that the court reconsider its April 7 rejection of the state's congressional redistricting.

The petition asks that as an alternative the court let the 1967 redistricting law stand until the districts must be realigned in 1971.

Missouri Atty. Gen. John C. Danforth is asking for the rehearing in the 17-page petition. The petition said the April 7 decision "not only places in jeopardy the apportionments in most of the states, but also any future attempts that the state of Missouri or other states might make."

It asked that other states be allowed to appear as friends of the court to discuss that point.

Danforth said no legislature or commission could produce a collective redistricting that would satisfy the court decision, and the only alternative would be to have the courts set up the districts, "highly undesirable in a state such as Missouri."

The petition said that under the court's strict order based solely on equal population between districts one man could perhaps draw districts that would meet the requirements, but two men with different ideas could not.

"We suggest," the petition illustrated, "that a black legislator is acting with entire propriety in trying to establish a congressional district in which a person of his race can probably secure election, and that minority Republican legislators are acting properly in striving for as many districts as possible in which their party's candidates have a chance."

"There is complete good faith in each instance."

Besides, the petition said, districts drawn to meet the court's requirement would be undesirable for representative government. It argued that people of a particular geographical area, with similar economic and political ties, should be tied together.

Wilson is Termed Target Of a Labor Party 'Plot'

LONDON (AP) — Political sources say an attempt from within his own Labor party to replace Prime Minister Harold Wilson may be imminent.

Reports of a plot against Wilson by some of his former Cabinet ministers and other backbench MPs are circulating in the lobbies of the House of Commons and appeared today on front pages of most major newspapers.

One report said the rebels were discussing whether to bring a vote of no confidence against the prime minister at an early meeting of the Labor party members in Commons.

The immediate sore point is Wilson's insistence on pushing through Parliament this summer laws to curb the wildcat strikes crippling British exports. The party's traditional cornerstone of political support, the trade union movement, is fighting the legislation tooth and nail.

In Wilson's nearly five years in office plots to replace him have often been reported but never have developed into a real threat. Political informants said the situation appeared different this time on at least three counts:

1. Criticism of Wilson and his antistrike bills is more open in Parliamentary lobbies than on earlier occasions and no longer emanates mainly from factions backing a potential rival.

2. The criticism is more widespread than before. It is said to include not only the party's dissident left wing, long a nuisance to Wilson, but also some of the center. Varying accounts put Wilson's critics at between 30 and 100 members.

3. For the first time, supporters of various potential successors to Wilson are now prepared to unite behind any one man who appears to have the best chance. Those most prominently mentioned are Home Secretary James Callaghan, a past opponent of the strike control proposals; Defense Secretary Denis Healey and Chancellor of the Exchequer Roy Jenkins.

No Further Advertising Reins Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — The television industry, acting as a congressional hearing into the smoking and health controversy drew to a close, says tighter voluntary controls on cigarette advertising are not necessary for the time being.

The Television Review Board of the National Association of Broadcasters said Thursday it had "decided to keep the matter of cigarette advertising under continuing review and that no further actions are necessary at this time." The Board action was taken Wednesday, a NAB official said.

Current voluntary NAB controls ban smoking commercials aimed at the young, endorsement by athletes and the making of medical claims.

The NAB also said it feared that "action at this time might appear to some to be merely a strategic maneuver designed to influence congressional action," referring to the House Commerce Committee's just concluded inquiry into the cigarette labeling act.

Symington is Critical Of Pentagon Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anti-Pentagon feeling has escalated in the Senate Armed Service Committee, bringing criticism from a quarter where the military is accustomed to praise.

Touching off a new round of fireworks Thursday over military spending programs was a committee meeting to approve Phillip Whittaker as an assistant secretary of the Air Force and Army Gen. Earle G. Wheeler for an unprecedented sixth year as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., who switched in recent years from a Pentagon supporter to an outspoken critic, used the meeting to attack the cost of the C5A transport, procurement policies in general and the administration move to give Wheeler another year as chairman.

Although the committee approved Wheeler's reappointment, at least four other senators endorsed Symington's suggestion that an Air Force general or Navy admiral be named when Wheeler's term expires in July 1970.

Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., backer of a strong military, echoed Symington's criticism of procurement policies.

Byrd centered his fire on controversial F111 fighter and on the C5A transport plane, where an original $2.9-billion cost estimate has ballooned to at least $5.2 billion.

"I for one expect to view with skepticism the entire military budget," Byrd said.

But Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., launched a counterattack against the Pentagon critics.

Goldwater indicated he was unhappy with some news stories on House hearings about costs of the Air Force C5A.

"I'm getting a little sick and tired of the attacks being made on the armed services and on our entire establishment," Goldwater said.

Miss Sedalia Pageant Set For Saturday

The 1969 Miss Sedalia Pageant, sponsored by the Sedalia Jaycees, will be presented at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Smith-Cotton auditorium.

Competing in this year's pageant will be Miss Sharon Kay Adams, Miss Bonnie Marie Deuschle, Miss Judith Jean Harsch, Miss Brenda Jonson, Miss Dixie Frances Kemp, Miss Judy Oehrke, Miss Marcia Yvonne Otten, Miss Kathy Kay Spellmeyer and Miss Kathy Sudduth.

Miss Sedalia of 1968, now Mrs. Sharon Waterfield Boots, will present the crown to the winner.

Master of ceremonies for the evening will be A. T. Dorsey.

The pre-pageant parade will begin at 2 p.m. Saturday at Seventh and Ohio, moving north on Ohio to Main and turning west.

University Will Honor Kirkpatrick

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford today forecast a taxpayers' revolt against spending for higher education unless university officials clamp down on student violence.

"I think the administrators have got to be firmer and if they're not they ought to be changed," Ford told a news conference.

Ford, here for the conference of GOP governors, said there will be "diminishing support financially" for public education unless student violence is quelled.

"The taxpayers as a whole will revolt against expenditures, tax monies being used for higher education, if the institutions are not used for the prime purpose of giving higher education," Ford said.

Ford also put in a plug for President Nixon's Safeguard missile defense system.

He said it is necessary for national defense and will pass the House by a margin of 2-to-1 or better.

Departure of British Liner Delayed By a Bomb Hoax

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) — A bomb hoax delayed the departure of Britain's new look liner, Queen Elizabeth 2, on her maiden voyage to New York today.

Forty minutes before the new Cunarder was due to sail from Southampton's Ocean Terminal, local police received a telephone call saying eight homemade hand grenades were planted aboard. The caller, a man, then hung up.

Security authorities found no trace of anything extraordinary aboard the ship.

The QE2 left 15 minutes late, with officials assuring passengers that the holdup was caused by delays in getting baggage aboard.

In the longer view the liner's maiden Atlantic voyage was really four months late. She had been due to sail to New York in January but this and other voyages were canceled because of engine trouble.

Art Fair to Open

The All School Art Fair will be held from 6 to 9 o'clock tonight and from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday in the Smith-Cotton cafeteria. The public is invited.

Coon Dog Acts Like Bloodhound In an Emergency

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Ole Abner's just a coon dog but he did a right smart job of treeing two boys accused of stealing.

Jack Moon, 63, chased two boys he thought stole money from his service station register Thursday. He caught up with them in his pickup truck, but they got away while he was calling police. So he took off after them on foot.

"I seen them two boys a runnin' south and this old gentleman in the service station uniform chasing 'em," said Dale Atkinson who was riding by in a camper pickup with his coon dog, Abner.

"When I saw what was happenin', I just opened the door and let the hound out. Abner treed them two boys and held 'em at bay up against wall."

Atkinson said he warned the two boys if they tried anything, "the dog would get 'em."

They didn't, so he put them and Abner in his camper and drove to a nearby bowling alley where he turned the two youths over to the police.

They were jailed on complaint of grand larceny.

"But the laugh's on the boys," Atkinson said. "Because when they got in the camper, Ole Abner started lickin' 'em in the face."

"He won't hurt anybody but I guess he can sure scare you to death."

Sign of Victory

Students make a victory sign in front of the Cambridge District Court, Cambridge, Mass., despite the fact that Judge Edward Viola had found 169 of 173 defendants guilty of trespassing in the seizure of a Harvard University administration building on April 10. Of the youths convicted, 139 said they would appeal. (UPI)

In Good Condition

Even though the critical period has not passed, doctors at St. Luke's Hospital in Kansas City reported Friday that the condition of Mrs. Nona Hickenbottom, 30, 231 South Quincy, is good, on the third day after she received a new kidney in a transplant operation. The doctors report there is no sign of rejection. The patient has been up and has been visiting with her family and friends. This photo, showing the patient and an unidentified doctor, was taken in the hospital Thursday.

Fears Taxpayers' Revolt Over College Upheavals

Most of the governors, including their host, Kentucky's Louie B. Nunn, appeared ready to accept local responsibility for controlling student disorders.

"It's our baby," said Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, the conference chairman.

Some governors suggested cutting off federal aid to institutions which condone rioting and students who participate.

But GOP National Chairman Rogers C.B. Morton told a news conference that the House by a margin of 2-to-1 or better.

Danforth Turns Fire On Users of Games

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Atty. Gen. John C. Danforth said today he considers the games conducted by many food stores, oil companies and other big commercial firms are illegal lotteries and he intends to stop them in Missouri.

He said he planned to move against any companies still conducting such games after June 1.

"We are allowing this time period," he said. "For game users who may have acted upon advice that their activities were not in violation of the lottery laws as previously interpreted in Missouri."

He has concluded "the fact that these games being an ascertainable number of customers to the game sponsor's place of business is a consideration equivalent to money as far as the game sponsor is concerned."

"In addition, the act of the prospective participant in going to a retail outlet to participate in the game of chance is consideration sufficient to support a simple contract. The time and effort expended traveling to the retail store may be measured as an expense in terms of money to the prospective participant."

Scout Circus Will Be Held On Saturday

Final preparations are being made for the Twin Forks District Boy Scout Circus to be held in the Agriculture Building in the fairgrounds at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Some 1,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers have been planning and rehearsing for months to present the show. A rapid-fire program of stunts, skills and demonstrations have been show-cased into acts along with special opening and closing ceremonies.

Proceeds from the show will be used to purchase camping equipment and supplies required in the local scouting program.

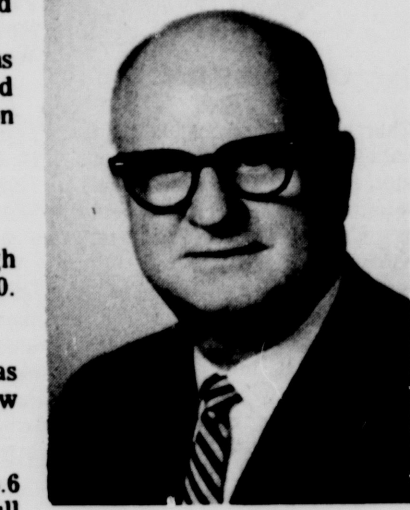

Garland Groom, Scout Executive of the Twin-Forks District, has been working in cooperation with the local planning committee to produce the circus.

He said he had not yet decided whether to file civil or criminal actions against the companies who continue such operations beyond June 1.

Meanwhile, his staff will continue its investigations and stockpile evidence. If he files civil suits, he said, he will demand the companies show cause why their Missouri charters should not be cancelled, barring them from further business in this state.

He was not sure whether he could instigate felony suits without a request from the governor but he felt sure Gov. Warren E. Hearnes would make that request if the investigation showed the state had a good chance of winning.

He said any county prosecuting attorney could file suit against companies operating the games if he wanted to provide a test case in Missouri. He said he felt sure many of the store managers and filling station operators would welcome a court decision the games are illegal.

James Kirkpatrick

WINDSOR — James C. Kirkpatrick, publisher of the Windsor Review, will receive the Missouri Honor Award for Distinguished Service in Journalism in a ceremony May 9, as part of the 60th Anniversary of Missouri Journalism Week.

Kirkpatrick, secretary of state, has been active in Missouri Press Association affairs for more than 30 years, serving as association president in 1959. He was chairman of the MPA 100th anniversary celebration in 1966, served as president of the Central Missouri Press Association and was president of the Democratic Editors of Missouri.

In his newspaper career he served as editor of the Warrensburg Star-Journal and the Jefferson City Post-Tribune and Capital News. He has been publisher of the Windsor Review, which is managed by his son, Don, since 1954.

Kirkpatrick has held numerous appointments on state committees, and has served 12 years on the Board of Regents at Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, 10 of these years as chairman of the board. He is an alumnus of CMSC and the MU School of Journalism.

He has held positions with several statewide industrial organizations and accepted his first government job as administrative assistant to Gov. Forrest Smith in 1948. He was elected secretary of state in 1964 and re-elected in 1968.

Others receiving the award will be Otis Chandler, publisher of the Los Angeles Times; William Manchester, author of "Death of a President," and Frank McGee, NBC news correspondent.

Nixon Asked to Intervene In a Dixie Labor Dispute

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy and 14 others were taken to the Charleston County Courthouse today for a hearing on charges they violated a court order limiting the number of pickets at two hospitals.

Meanwhile, Abernathy appealed to President Nixon to intervene personally in the hospital labor dispute. Abernathy's appeal was issued through Jack Greenberg in New York. Greenberg is director of the Legal Defense and Educational Fund of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The organization is defending those arrested in Charleston.

Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and 98 other persons were arrested a week ago when they joined picket lines at the hospitals.

Circuit Judge Clarence E. Singletary, who presided over the hearing today, issued the injunction, which limits the number of pickets to not more than 10 at each facility.

Attorneys for the state and for the defendants have agreed that they be tried in groups of 15. Among the first 15, in addition to Abernathy, was Leon Davis of New York, president of the Drug and Hospital Workers Union, which called the strike.

Thursday Gov. Robert E. McNair ordered a 9 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew on Charleston in hopes of easing racial tension, but fires, false alarms, vandalism and rock throwing kept police busy throughout the night. About 30 persons were arrested on charges of violating the curfew.

Fire Chief Wilmot E. Guthke said two serious fires during the night were deliberately set. He said one in a storage shed was touched off by a fire bomb and the other, in a supermarket, by kerosene poured on the steps.

In his telegram to Nixon, Abernathy said: "We must have the intervention of the office of the President of the United States immediately so that this problem can be brought to a speedy solution and peace and tranquility can be restored to this old historic community."

He added: "If you find it impossible to come to Charleston, please send one of your highest ranking officials who can communicate with the governor, leaders of this community and the members of the power structure of South Carolina. We stand ready at all times to negotiate in our nonviolent tradition."

Abernathy also placed a half-page advertisement in this morning's Charleston News & Courier to disclaim that the SCLC is responsible for the violence.

Convulsing Conditions On Campus

NEW YORK (AP) — If you don't have to pay the piper, the dancing may get wild.

That, briefly, is the condition now convulsing the campuses, in the view of a noted Catholic educator, Jacqueline Grennan.

She suggests a radical remedy: Give students complete responsibility, both for their conduct and also the costs.

"Radical freedom is much harder than partial freedom," she said in an interview. "As long as we've gone this far, we have to go all the way, and put buying power in their hands."

Today's collegians insist that they're entitled to a major role in running the educational machinery, she notes, but under present arrangements, they don't have to bear the costs of what they do. The oldsters foot the bills.

She sees this as an artificial, unbalanced situation that produces irrational behavior. The circumstances also tend to forestall the application of St. Paul's ancient injunction: "Whatever a man sows, that will he also reap."

To bring some chastening realism into the present distorted picture, in which students want to make their own decisions but aren't accountable for the results, she proposes that they be given responsibility for both.

That would make for a more normally proportioned situation, she says, in which students not only "must decide what to do, but in which they must live with the consequences of what they do."

Miss Grennan, an eminently straightforward, vivacious and attractive Christian thinker, created a sensation in Catholic educational reform in 1967, and did so with a grace that won official Church sanction.

She gained a dispensation from her vows as a nun of the Sisters of Loretto to transform Webster College, of which she is president, from a Church institution to a secular one, under lay control.

BUNCETON — The Church Women's Federation gathered April 24 for a meeting and covered dish luncheon at the Federated Church.

President, Mrs. Laura Belle Floyd, opened the meeting with the reading of a poem. Mrs. C. T. Nelson gave the devotional using the 23rd Psalm.

The poem, "Trees" was read by Mrs. Riley Edwards and readings by Mrs. George Dicus, "Paragraphs by Prominent Men," and Mrs. Maynard Keech, "The Touch of Human Hands," followed.

New officers for the year are Mrs. John Fairchilds, president; Mrs. Eva Simms, secretary; Mrs. Farris Floyd, treasurer and Miss Emma Lee Kurtz, benediction.

The new president appointed members for the program, memorial and Bible school committees.

Closing prayer was given by Mrs. C. T. Nelson.

Tomcat Is Partial To Snake Dishes

CULVER, Kan. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Cobb say their cat, Bernard, eats snakes.

Mrs. Cobb said the one-year-old tomcat apparently catches bullsnakes under the front porch. They have found some fragments of the reptiles, but Mrs. Cobb says the satisfied look on Bernard's face as he licks his chops is sufficient circumstantial evidence of what happens to the rest.

How To Be a Good Loser Is a Mark of Maturity

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP RELIGION WRITER
PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — At Princeton University, the Episcopal chaplain recently noted a sign hanging in the campus boathouse, and to him, it offered a clue to the basic angers of modern students.

The sign said, "Show Me a Good Loser and I'll Show You a Loser."

It expresses an insistence on immediate satisfaction of goals, says the Rev. John H. Snow, and also refuses to accept a conditioning fact of human reality — that even the noblest efforts often go down in defeat.

"Knowing how to be a good loser used to be recognized as a mark of maturity," he says. "It's the nature of life — we have to cope, to deal with difficulty and enjoy the trying, to go through misfortunes and do the best we can."

This "tragic sense of life" is a central truth of Judeo-Christian belief, he adds, but modern young people haven't got the message, and the lack of it has left them with an almost "paranoid vision of the world."

"They demand quick-fix solutions, everything from building takeovers to maintaining 'speed,'" he says. "When it doesn't work, they see the failure as a result of a conspiracy on our part — we are inhuman, we put them in jail, we harass them."

But actually, he adds, the trouble stems from a superficial view of life itself and a blindness to human fallibility. He blames the illusion on a pervasive tendency to assume all problems are subject to scientific solutions.

This diagnosis came up repeatedly, both from religious and psychiatric interpreters, at a conference in Pittsburgh last week of the Academy of Religion and Mental Health on the subject of youth.

Several psychological experts saw the resentments of young people as resulting from a rigid perfectionism — what Dr. Charles P. Neuman, a New Canaan, Conn., psychiatrist, called an "Obsessive intellectualism," with little tolerance in it.

It is highly idealistic, they said, but also crudely arbitrary and shallow in its outlook, gauging human possibilities in the narrow perspective of a technologically oriented environment.

"There's an almost total intellectualizing in the universities," said Father Snow, 45. "We have taught the young to organize life empirically, to size up every situation as a problem to be solved rather than as part of a dynamic process with too many variables to be trapped and dragged into the laboratory."

This limited approach, he said, ignores "the most important value of Western Judeo-Christianity society, the tragic sense of life, the knowledge that the best intentions and most dedicated and loving people can make the most dreadful mistakes and suffer the most terrible consequences."

In his final dash to the North Pole, Admiral Byrd's party included only Matthew Henson, his colored servant, and four Eskimos.

The Singing Stalls

The Singing Stalls family from Versailles, Ky., will be at the Pentecostal Church of God Friday through Sunday for services at 7:30 each evening and at 11 a.m. Sunday.

The group is well known throughout the country for their appearances at camp meetings, etc. Pastor L. W. Rowden has invited the public to hear this group.

OBITUARIES

William M. Swearingin

LINCOLN — William M. (Bill) Swearingin, 92, died at 5:40 p.m. Thursday at the Rest Haven Nursing Home, Sedalia, where he had been a patient for five days.

He was born Oct. 11, 1876, in Benton County, son of William Henry and Mary Etta Jones Swearingin. He married Nancy Isabelle Wheeland Feb. 24, 1895. They spent most of their married life in Lincoln.

Mr. Swearingin operated a meat market and grocery store in Lincoln for many years. He later worked for the State Highway Department before retirement. He was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Swearingin celebrated their 74th wedding anniversary Feb. 24, at their home in Lincoln.

Surviving him are his wife, a patient at Bothwell Hospital; two daughters, Mrs. Floyd (Roberta) Mothersbaugh, Windsor, Mrs. Orville (Helen) Peterson, Orlando, Fla.; two sons, G.C. (Butch) Swearingin, Warsaw, Earnest Swearingin, 1017 South Massachusetts, Sedalia; two brothers, Earl Swearingin, Drexel, Mo.; Brill Swearingin, Sedalia; a sister, Rosie Graves, Colorado; nine grandchildren, 18 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Preceding him were two sons, two brothers and a sister.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Fred Davis and Son Funeral Home, with the Rev. E.O. Farier officiating, assisted by the Rev. Ron Allen.

Burial will be in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

The family will receive friends from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Saturday at the funeral home.

Daren Alen Murphy

CENTERTOWN — Daren Alen Murphy, one year and 11 months, Route 1, died unexpectedly at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

He was born May 22, 1967 at Memorial Hospital, Jefferson City, son of Kenneth D. and Mary Rector Murphy.

Surviving him are his parents, two brothers, Darrell Murphy and David Hofmann; a sister, Kristie Lynn Hofmann, all of the home; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred (Pete) Murphy, Centertown; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Wilbert Rector, Mokane, Mo.; three great-grandmothers, Mrs. Dolly English, Centertown; Mrs. Josie Melton, Jefferson City and Mrs. Alvina Rector, Hermann.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Bowlin Funeral Home, California, with the Rev. Walter Nieder, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, officiating.

Burial will be in New Hope Cemetery, north of Centertown.

Von Papan Dies

OBERASBACH, Germany (AP) — Former Chancellor Franz von Papan, who helped pave Hitler's way to power and later won acquittal at the Nuremberg war crimes trials, died today, his son reported. He was 89 years old.

Lobbyist Retained By Hickel

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former lobbyist who opposed two conservation measures and later was hired by the Interior Department for two months as a high-level consultant has now been retained by Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel for "an indefinite period."

The Associated Press revealed last February that Hickel had retained the former lobbyist for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, James G. Watt, after Watt testified against measures dealing with industrial water pollution and reclamation of strip-mined lands.

At that time, the Interior Department said Watt had been hired for two months as a $98-a-day consultant in organizing the department under the new administration.

Watt's two-month term ended March 26. Today he is still at the department and holds the title of special consultant to the secretary.

A spokesman said Watt is not in a policy-making position and his job continues to be one of advising on departmental organization.

"His initial two-month contract expired some time ago," a spokesman said Thursday. "He is now working on a day-to-day basis for an indefinite period."

As a lobbyist for business and industry interests last year, Watt opposed two pieces of conservation legislation supported by the Interior Department, then headed by Democrat Stewart L. Udall.

One bill, written by Udall, would have implemented new standards on industrial water pollution, requiring a minimum of two stages of treatment for municipal wastes and a "comparable degree of treatment" for industrial wastes.

Watt told the House Public Works Committee, which was considering the legislation, that if the federal government insisted on such standards, the federal government should have to pay for their implementation.

One congressional source responded: "He is willing to accept whatever industry has to do if the public will pay for it."

New Officers Are Announced By University

WARRENSBURG, Mo. (AP)—Central Missouri State College today announced the appointment of four vice presidents effective June 1. They are Irvin L. Peters, for administrative affairs; Roy E. McAuley, for academic affairs; Thomas D. Edmunds, for students; and William E. Sparling, for financial.

The four will report directly to the president, Dr. Warren C. Lovinger, who announced in April plans for a reorganization as a result of rapid growth in the college.

An indication of the growth of Central Missouri State was the school's simultaneous announcement that the largest graduating class in its 98-year history, approximately 1,800 students, will receive degrees and certificates during commencement exercises May 25. Bachelor degrees will go to approximately 1,500, and 275 will get master degrees.

Pope Orders End To Experimentation With Catholic Mass

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI ordered an end today to further experimentation with the Roman Catholic Mass. But he left priests a wide choice of Masses to celebrate and ended the 1,900-year-old rule that required women to cover their heads in church.

The orders came in the form of a decree titled "Missale Romanum" (Roman Missal) which brings together in the form of a comprehensive altar book all the many changes in the Mass instituted since the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

The compilation represents a thorough revision of the prayers and rites of the Mass. It also means that no more major changes or experiments beyond those contained in the new missal are permitted.

Firemen Decline To End Stoppage

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Striking city firemen declined to end their work stoppage today despite court-imposed fines of $100 a day apiece for ignoring an injunction.

As the walkout went into its fourth day, Harry Jeffries, head of the firemen's union, said: "We knew we were going to be in a good fight. I think we have the men united. The talking is all over."

With 330 union members idle, a skeleton staff of 25 non-strikers, 10 National Guardsmen and 10 policemen manned central fire headquarters. The other 13 fire stations were closed.

Arab Saboteurs Attack Israeli Army Positions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A squad of Arab saboteurs from Jordan attacked an Israeli army emplacement today, there were skirmishes on the border of Lebanon and Cairo reported cannonading along the Suez Canal.

A military spokesman in Tel Aviv said two soldiers were killed and three were wounded in the saboteur attack near El Hammam on the Yarmuk River, a tributary of the Jordan southeast of the Sea of Galilee. Two saboteurs also were reported killed.

The spokesman said the Arabs struck with grenades and light arms.

At about the same time, a bomb went off in El Hammam causing serious damage to a building, the spokesman reported.

Farther north, the army announced two Arab saboteurs were killed and an Israeli soldier was wounded in clashes on the Lebanese border.

An army spokesman said in Cairo Israeli forces opened fire on Egyptian positions at El Tina north of El Qantara on the northern reaches of the Suez Canal cease-fire line. Egyptian forces returned the fire and the exchange continued sporadically for 3½ hours, the spokesman added.

Egypt and Israel have swapped new claims and denials but have told Secretary-General U. Thant they are trying to limit danger to U.N. observers along the canal. He had protested the exchange of fire across the canal endangered his observers.

Revolt

conference it might be dangerous business for Congress to try to pass any punitive legislation of this sort.

"I am not prepared in my own mind to say whether Congress ought to use this club or not," said Morton, a member of the House from Maryland. "I hope the disorders can be resolved at the basic level of government which is first concerned—the local authorities, the states and the courts."

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan told the governors today the GOP has blocked a Democratic effort to "strip President Nixon of all but his constitutional functions in foreign and defense matters and stop cold the new domestic reforms and new direction the new administration is studying and shaping up."

He said the attempt was launched in the defeated Democratic bid to extend the federal aid to education program for five years—putting it out of Nixon's reach during his first term of office.

Ford suggested that if the effort had succeeded, other portions of the Great Society program "would have been put in deep freeze, ready to be revived and expanded in the hoped-for Democratic restoration of 1972."

Police were alerted to cope with a group of students who planned an afternoon rally at the University of Kentucky, followed by a march on a downtown hotel where the conference's formal state dinner is scheduled.

Morton said he thinks Vice President Spiro T. Agnew is making progress establishing communications between the governors and the White House.

But Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas said governors don't want the programs for the poor to be run exclusively from Washington.

"The governors are responsible for and must administer the programs to meet the needs of the people of their states," he said. "They are in a better position to evaluate the needs and programs that a bureaucracy or even the Congress."

Gov. Harold LeVander of Minnesota said Nixon's actions and statements indicate "progress toward social equality will continue."

Gov. Claude R. Kirk of Florida said he was pleased with Nixon's "commitment to action."

Gov. William Milliken of Michigan said he saw encouraging signs that the problems of the cities, the poor and campus unrest will be tackled speedily.

Gov. Don Samuelson of Idaho expressed the view that Nixon was on the right track in his approach to domestic problems.

Salvation Army Theme At Kiwanis

An exceptional entertaining and informative program was provided the Sedalia Kiwanis club by Brigadier and Mrs. Bernard Lodge of Chicago, territorial evangelists of 11 midwestern states for the Salvation Army, at the meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

Several instrumental and vocal numbers were presented by Brigadier Lodge playing the guitar and banjo with Mrs. Lodge as piano accompanist. Club members joined in singing one lively tune.

Brigadier Lodge also developed a thoughtful theme by using the letters of Kiwanis to illustrate the need for responsible approach to some of life's problems, including among which were: K for kindness; I for personal involvement; W for working together; A for awareness of others and of God; N for establishing a good name; I for iconoclast in the sense of tearing down hate and prejudice; S for devotion to the spiritual values of life.

The Lodges were introduced by Major Howard Froberg of the local Salvation Army who is program chairman for May. With him as a guest was his father-in-law, Envoy Bruce Littleton of Saginaw, Mich.

President Roy Brown presented the club a plaque received by him at the Salvation Army annual meeting Tuesday night in recognition of the club's top award for participation in the Christmas bell ringing project of the Army.

On recommendation of President Brown members voted unanimously to amend bylaws making the club's operation on a fiscal year beginning Oct. 1, instead of a calendar year. This will conform to International's suggestion.

Invocation was by Abe Rosenthal who also led the singing with Mrs. Lillian Maynard as accompanist.

Lon Renfrow, past president of the Chillicothe club, was a visitor and he had as a guest Charles Bell of Sedalia.

Judge Says Blasphemy Law Invalid

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—Maryland's 246-year-old blasphemy law was struck down as unconstitutional Thursday.

Judge Edward O. Weant Jr. said the U. S. Supreme Court has made it "abundantly clear by its recent decisions that the blasphemy statute would be unconstitutional."

His ruling overturned the conviction of Irving K. West last June 21 by Trial Magistrate Charles J. Simpson of Westminster, which resulted in a $25 fine and a 30-day jail sentence which West served.

West, 20, had just returned from the Army when he was convicted of disorderly conduct and blasphemy after a fight on Main Street.

Judge Weant's 16-page opinion traced the history of blasphemy laws back to 1656 in England, when the penalty for a first offense was that "a hole be bored through the tongue."

The Maryland law provides a jail sentence up to six months and a fine up to $100 "if any person, by writing or speaking, shall blaspheme or curse God, or shall write or utter any profane words or of concerning our Savior Jesus Christ, or of and concerning the Trinity, or any of the persons thereof."

The American Civil Liberties Union represented West in Carroll County Circuit Court. Judge Weant ruled in favor of the ACLU's argument last January that the Maryland law violates the free speech, freedom of religion and equal protection provisions of the First and Fourteenth Amendments to the U. S. Constitution.

'Black Power' Movement Is Led By New Faces

WASHINGTON (AP) — Black student uprisings at campuses across the country point up a trend toward decentralization of the black power movement.

New faces have been thrust into positions of prominence in recent months as such black power advocates as Stokely Carmichael, H. Rap Brown and Floyd McKissick dropped from public view.

The old faces haven't just disappeared from television news programs or newspaper articles.

Carmichael, for example, has been out of the country since early this year traveling in Europe and Africa, where he and Miriam Makeba, his African-born wife, may eventually decide to stay.

Brown, sources report, is living quietly in New York City, making only an occasional appearance. He has just published a book, "Die Nigger, Die."

McKissick, who quit as national director of the Congress of Racial Equality last year, is hard at work on his black "Soul City" project.

These were the people who took it upon themselves to spread the gospel when the words "black power" were a fearful-sounding slogan that sowed confusion among most who heard it, black and white.

The new faces don't do the kind of coast-to-coast preaching that Carmichael did, but they may feel they don't need to—Black Power has become a household word.

For example, when Carmichael was preaching black power in the heart of the ghettos in the summer of 1966, only the most aware Negroes recognized the book "Wretched of the Earth," by black psychologist Franz Fanon.

Today, however, that bitterly written treatise on how non-whites must rebel against white oppression is a stock item in any ghetto bookstore along with such other stock items as the Black Panther newspaper, collections of the philosophy of Mao Tse Tung, the writings of Ho Chi Minh, posters of Malcolm X, Che Guevara and Fidel Castro, and buttons bearing anti-police slogans.

On campus after campus, students have risen up under a banner of blacks banding together in confrontations with school administrators.

The situation appears to be making a prophet of Carmichael, who told a black audience at San Francisco State College last November:

"If you can set the attitude of San Francisco State, it will be duplicated across this country overnight."

With considerable local variation, that is just what happened, and when Carmichael abandoned his speechmaking activities for a sojourn overseas the list of colleges facing confrontations with black students was swelling.

With few exceptions, the student activists who appear most influential in directing these confrontations were involved in them many months before disputes made headlines.

Their names aren't well known outside their schools—Benny Stewart and Jerry Varnado at San Francisco State, Jimmy Garrett at Federal City College in Washington D. C., Edward Whitfield at Cornell, Leslie Griffin at Harvard, and a number of students in the different protests going on simultaneously at Howard University.

Whether these newly prominent student activists will later get involved in off-campus issues remains to be seen. Many of the black students' groups tend to frown on the personal glorification of any of their members, a state of affairs often dubbed "ego trips."

Some, like Washington's Garrett, do considerable traveling and hold seminars with other activists. But they stay away from the kind of public exposure gathered by Carmichael and Brown.

Others feed their ideas to a variety of black and underground weekly newspapers, ranging from one published by the Black Panthers to the Washington D. C. Free Press, a hippie newspaper that combines essays on black power with instructions for making your own "poor-man's phosphorous grenade" from hardware-store materials.

Negroes Within the UAW Mount Breakaway Effort

DETROIT (AP) — A group of black militants employed in the auto industry is challenging the United Auto Workers claim to represent Negro workers as well as white. It is also making demands on auto companies.

The breakaway drive was first aimed primarily at Chrysler Corp. plants in the Detroit area, but Ford Motor Company's Mahwah, N.J., plant was added to the list last week.

Supported by groups of demonstrators from Students for a Democratic Society and the Black Panthers, Mahwah Negro workers walked off their jobs demanding recognition of their group, United Black Brothers, as the bargaining agent for members of their race.

The group also demanded an end to what its leaders described as racial discrimination and disputed the effectiveness of the industry's efforts to hire the hard core unemployed.

The movement first surfaced last year at the Dodge main assembly plant in Hamtramck when about 500 Negroes belonging to a group called the Dodge Revolutionary Union Movement (DRUM) walked off their jobs in demand for more supervisory jobs for blacks.

DRUM and its up-to-now inactive counterparts at General Motors and Ford plants in the Detroit area—GRUM and FRUM—are on the warpath against the UAW as well as the companies.

Picketers outside the Chrysler Hamtramck plant carried such signs as "Behead the Redhead," a reference to red-haired UAW President Walter Reuther.

In one incident, ELRUM—an offshoot of DRUM composed of workers from Chrysler's Eldon Avenue gear and axle plant in Detroit—stormed into Solidarity House, UAW headquarters, in what they said was a protest against the UAW's alleged failure to protect the firing of 25 workers during a wildcat strike in January.

Generally, the dissident unionists claim:

—Job discrimination, in which few Negroes are assigned supervisory positions and whites are being given the easier jobs.

—Discrimination by plant doctors, who are accused of viewing illness and injuries among black workers as a ruse to get off work.

—Discrimination by the UAW, which the militants say is less eager to investigate grievances of black workers than those of white.

—Lack of representation on local union councils.

Emil Mazey, secretary treasurer of the 1.5 million-member UAW, disputes the claim the union is guilty of discrimination.

"At the Dodge plant, four out of six of the fulltime union officials are black as are 56 per cent of the elected shop stewards," says Mazey.

At Eldon axle, 65 per cent of the elected stewards and committeemen are black.

About 32 per cent of Chrysler's 63,000 employees in the Detroit area are Negroes, although in the two plants mentioned by Mazey the percentage runs into the 60s. Nationwide, 32 per cent of Chrysler's 110,000 hourly rated workers are black.

General Motors reports 12.9 per cent of its 622,000 hourly rated workers are Negroes, but says it has not broken down the figure for the Detroit area. Negro employment at one Detroit inner city GM plant is estimated at about 65 per cent.

Ford says 25 per cent of its 170,000 hourly rated workers across the nation are Negroes. The percentage for Michigan plants is 33 per cent of 84,000. A castings plant which is to be phased out by 1973 in favor of a suburban facility has a Negro concentration of about 68 per cent.

Eleven per cent of American Motors' 12,500 blue collar workers are Negroes.

The major auto producers all have adopted in special hiring programs designed to provide jobs for men living in the black slums.

At Mahwah, the walkout by Negro employees halted production on the 4 p.m. to midnight shift Friday and Monday and cut its operating time in half Tuesday. The shift went full cycle Wednesday although a company spokesman said 250 of its 1,675 workers were absent.

Posthumous Honor For Dead Cubans

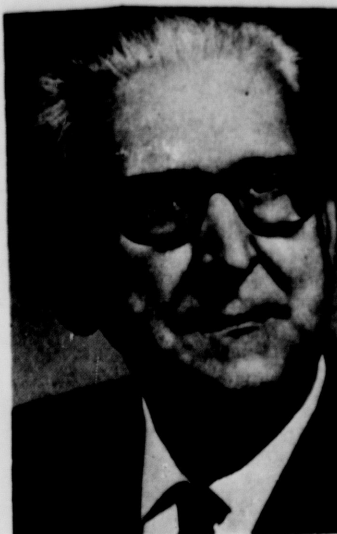

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Three Army photographers killed in an accident at a Havana dam project have been awarded posthumous memberships in the Cuban Communist party, says Havana radio.

Details of the accident were not included in the Miami-monitored broadcast.

Robber of Bank Hard to Ignore

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Police are puzzled because no one noticed the robber who held up a teller and escaped recently with $865 from a North Portland bank.

He wore a leather cap, turquoise shirt, and topped the ensemble with an orange jacket.

A. B. Warren, registered pharmacist of Warren's RX, will participate in a course offered by the St. Louis College of Pharmacy May 6-8. Warren will fit orthopedic appliances and demonstrate convalescent aids.

In Ranks

2nd Lt. Frank J. Humphreys, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Humphreys, Route 4, Marshall, has been awarded U.S. Air Force silver pilot wings upon graduation at Reese AFB, Tex.

Lieutenant Humphreys is being assigned to Phan Rang AB, Vietnam, for flying duty with a unit of the Pacific Air Forces.

The lieutenant, a 1963 graduate of Marshall High School, received a B.S. degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Missouri at Columbia and was commissioned there in 1968 through the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

Richard E. Bayne, son of Mrs. Mildred C. Bayne Warrensburg, has been promoted to the rank of technical sergeant in the U.S. Air Force.

TSgt. Bayne, a personnel technician at Offutt AFB, Neb., is assigned to a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

He is a 1961 graduate of Warrensburg College High School. His wife, Catherine, is the daughter of Elmer J. Bailey, Warrensburg.

Army Pfc. James R. Thornton, 21, son of Mrs. Dora M. Thornton, Clarksburg, has been assigned as a radio communications specialist with the 1st Infantry Division near Lai Khe, Vietnam.

Sgt. David L. Carlson, USAF son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Carlson, Rt. 3, Cole Camp, is participating in a U.S. Strike Command fire power demonstration at Ft. Bragg, N.C.

Sgt. Carlson, a radio operator at England AFB, La., is on temporary duty at the U.S. Army installation until the demonstration ends May 2.

The sergeant, a graduate of Benton County R-1 High School, attended Draughts Business University.

No More Free Wood For the Camping Set

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Inflation will take some of the joy from camping out this summer—at least in the Pacific Northwest.

The U.S. Forest Service plans to eliminate free firewood at its camps in Oregon and Washington to save $200,000.

4-H Notes

Dresden 4-H Club met April 28 at Community Hall. President, Carol Jones conducted the meeting and Pam Gibson and Rita Westermire led the pledges.

Candidates for the county junior leadership scholarship are Nancy Richey and Mark Jones.

Demonstrations were given by Buddy Taylor, Joe Ellen Lentz, Rita Westermire, Mary Joe Westermire and Nancy Richey.

Guest speaker, Dr. Burkholder, gave a talk on health in the adolescent years. Buddy Taylor and Mary Maples were song leaders.

The next meeting will feature the Rural Life Sunday program.

Maverick's hot! Any questions?

Measure it any way you like. By the crowds. The news stories. The sales. Few cars have caused a sensation like Maverick or broken so many records. Every day more and more people are asking questions about it. Here are the answers.

Q. Why did you build the Maverick?

A. We think of Maverick as another one of Ford Motor Company's answers to the gold drain. Now Americans who want small car economy don't have to send their U.S. dollars overseas.

Q. Why did you call it Maverick?

A. You know what a maverick is. A maverick breaks the rules. A maverick is different. Maverick plugs the big gap between the compacts and the imports. It has a wheelbase eight inches shorter than a '69 Falcon, eight and one-half inches longer than a VW 1500. Nothing else like it.

Q. Why did you make it this size?

A. Maverick pinches pennies, not people. We gave Maverick more leg room. More shoulder room. More luggage room. Good example: the front seat of a Maverick offers you nine inches more shoulder room than the front seat of the leading economy import and its trunk can handle all the luggage for a family of four, including a set of golf clubs.

Q. What do I get for the price?

A. You get your money's worth. A complete, built-for-Americans kind of car. Room. Hot styling. Color-keyed interiors. Even the heater is included. Some economy car interiors are about as luxurious as a park bench. Not Maverick's. You get plush seats. Cloth and vinyl upholstery with unique tartan plaid cloth inserts. You also get safety features like smart pull-out door handles. Strong safety door locks. Two-speed electric wipers. Safety belts. Head restraints. Plus conveniences like armrests, coat hooks, lighted heater controls... important little things that add so much to your driving comfort.

Q. What about options?

A. You can get 'em if you want 'em. You can order: integral air conditioning. (It's built in, not hung on.) Other options include 3-speed automatic or low-cost semiautomatic transmission, and a hefty 200 CID Six. But lots of people won't put an extra cent into this car. Because it's all there. A complete car all ready to drive home.

Q. What kind of gas mileage can I get?

A. That depends on you as well as the car. You can get as much as 25 or 26 miles per gallon—if you have an educated toe and the right road conditions. If you have a lead foot, or do a lot of city driving, you will get a lot less. In tests by professional drivers at our tracks, where we do our best to duplicate actual driving conditions, Maverick averaged 22.5 mpg.

Q. What kind of power does Maverick have?

A. Maverick's Six lets loose 105 galloping horses. That's 52 more than you get in the 4-cylinder VW 1500. Maverick can cover 417 feet in ten seconds from a standing start. That means you can get up to highway speed in a hurry. When you enter a 70 mph turnpike, you won't feel like a retired bookkeeper thrust into the middle of a pro football game.

Q. If it has an eight inch longer wheelbase than the leading import, does it still handle and park easily?

A. Maverick can U-turn in a tighter circle (35.6 feet) than the leading economy import (36.0 feet). Maverick can slant through traffic like a halfback. It can turn on a dime and give you nine cents change. If you've been driving any other American car, you'll find Maverick's neat size adds up to 5½ feet to any parking space.

Q. Can Detroit really build a small economy car that's tough and long lasting?

A. It's not easy, but we did it. Maverick's unitized body construction makes it light, strong and durable. It's welded like a battleship. Rustproofing compound goes into deep crevices that never see the light of day. Then all that strength is covered with four coats of paint for lasting beauty. Result: one tough little car that's put together to stay together. (The service schedule in the Maverick owner's manual goes up to 108,000 miles or nine years; that ought to tell you something about its rugged durability.)

Q. How about parts and service?

A. Maverick is designed to be unusually easy to service. You're dealing with made-in-America parts and 6,000 easy-to-find Ford Dealers. Fast repairs and easy replacements mean extra savings in both time and money.

Q. Is Maverick really easier and less expensive to maintain than an economy import?

A. Definitely. Maverick oil changes come only every 6,000 miles and chassis lubrication once every 36,000 miles. The leading economy import recommends oil changes every 3,000 miles (twice as often as Maverick) and chassis lubrication every 6,000 miles (six times as often as Maverick). Those are just a few examples of the many ways Maverick lessens inconvenience and lowers operating cost.

Q. Can I do my own maintenance work?

A. Yes, if you have an average amount of mechanical ability. The Maverick owner's manual contains 24 pages of detailed diagrams and easy-to-follow instructions for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself, if you wish. You'll find it easy to change spark plugs, replace ignition points... plus many other do-it-yourself repairs and replacements.

Q. Can a small car be safe? And how safe is safe?

A. This small car incorporates the latest advances in engineering. Maverick's brakes are as big as a standard compact—designed to stop cars weighing hundreds of pounds more. Maverick gives you weight... power... stability. Designed for American driving conditions.

Q. How does Maverick ride?

A. Here's where Maverick's longer, wider stance really pays off. You get a smoother, quieter ride. Maverick's tight, strong, unitized body helps eliminate squeaks and rattles. Special insulation blocks out road noise. The people who brought you a Ford that was quieter than a Rolls-Royce now bring you a small car that doesn't sound like a power mower.

Q. Is there an advantage in the fact that Maverick is really a 1970 car?

A. Slower depreciation is one money-in-the-pocket advantage. Maverick's 1970 model designation means it keeps its trade-in value higher, longer. (Maverick is built to be a good investment from the minute you buy it to the minute you sell it.)

Better come take a look at this one. You'll find it where the action is... right in there with other great Ford values like specially equipped Ford Galaxie 500's... Fairlanes... Mustangs and Falcons.

You'll find them at your Ford Dealer's... the place you've got to go to see what's going on.

For an authentic 1/25 scale model of the new Ford Maverick, send $1.00 to Maverick, P.O. Box 5397, Department N-50, Detroit, Michigan 48211. (Offer ends July 31, 1969.)

The Rescue Helicopter

The yearly carnage on the nation's highways is often likened to that of a casualty-strewn battlefield. Thus it makes sense that one of the lifesaving systems that has helped take a little of the horror out of the Vietnam war should be applied to alleviating the misery we inflict on ourselves with our automobiles. This is the rescue helicopter.

The Department of Transportation has announced an agreement with the University of Arizona to conduct a one-year medical evacuation system to serve rural and remote areas of Arizona.

The funds will provide for the leasing of two helicopters with highly trained crews. One team will be on ground alert and the other on airborne surveillance over highway routes which have a high accident history. When a highway crash occurs, the closest team will rescue and treat any injured and evacuate them to the nearest medical facility.

Similar demonstration projects are being conducted in Nebraska and the cities of Detroit, Los Angeles and New York.

Many public safety and medical officials predict that there will be a virtual boom in helicopter ambulance service when hostilities end in Vietnam and a large number of helicopters are declared surplus, reports Aviation Week & Space Technology magazine.

There is also expected to be a large reservoir of men who have served as medics or corpsmen and have experience with emergency first-aid and helicopter evacuation of the wounded.

The boom has already begun modestly in a number of localities. In Wyandotte, Mich., a commercial ambulance operator is offering what is believed to be the only commercial helicopter ambulance.

A combined Ohio State University, state National Guard and state highway patrol operation has made 15 evacuations of emergency patients in the last 15 months and has rendered aid on about 35 calls.

The California Highway Patrol has purchased three helicopters that can be quickly converted into ambulances.

Army hospital detachments in Alabama and Texas evacuated more than 70 accident victims by helicopter in 1967.

A parallel development, says the magazine, is the building of facilities at hospitals to handle helicopters. So far, only 147 out of the 7,850 general hospitals in the nation have officially certified "helipads" with 38 more under construction. However, a far greater number of emergency hospitals accommodate helicopters under FAA emergency flight rules.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Campus Extremists Concern Nixon

—CAMPUS REVOLT—

Beginning on Jan. 13, 1969, Drew Pearson wrote a series of columns regarding revolt on the campuses. He had visited, at that time, a total of fifty in one year. He reported that the inspiration for the campus revolt came from a small, well-organized group, the Students For a Democratic Society, with links to leaders in Germany and France. The SDS appeared to be anarchists, rather than communists, Pearson said.

Since then, the campus revolt has spread. And last week Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., announced that she would summon "the real revolutionaries and anarchists" in the investigation of unrest in the universities.

By DREW PEARSON AND JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — President Nixon is worried about the dangerous polarization now taking place on college campuses across the nation.

At one extreme are the militants of the new left, who are more interested in confrontation and chaos than reform. At the other extreme are the militants of the radical right, who are preparing to meet violence with violence. Disciples of Adolf Hitler, for example, have grabbed control of the former Youth for Wallace organization which campaigned for presidential candidate George Wallace last year.

Nixon has called the attention of his subordinates to a statement by Dr. S. J. Tonsor, a University of Michigan professor, who declared in a recent speech: "Both the extreme right and the extreme left hold the same destructive view. Both Mark Rudd of Columbia (a student radical) and George Wallace of Alabama stand in the schoolroom door, and they both hold the same low view of reasoned discourse."

The President offered this statement to key subordinates to guide them in setting the administration's policies toward campus disorders.

Meanwhile, the Students for a Democratic Society, whose leaders have been kicking up trouble on the campuses, have quietly embraced the legal system they seek to overthrow. They have obtained legal advice from Edward Bennett Williams' prestigious Washington law firm, which counseled them to incorporate as a non-profit organization.

This not only would permit them to raise funds and organize demonstrations free of government interference, but would make it easier for them to escape individual liability.

—Everything Legal—

Before they hit the American University and George Washington University campuses last week, they adopted the Williams Firm's advice and quietly incorporated on April 10. The corporate papers list three student radicals — Hank Topper, Cathlyn Wilkerson and Andrew St. John — as the incorporators.

At the same time, anti-Nazi youth leaders are seeking legal aid to get the former Youth for Wallace organization back from Willis Carto, the Nazi philosopher, organizer and financial wizard who gained control through the power of the purse.

He poured more than $40,000 into the Wallace Youth movement during the 1968 presidential campaign. By controlling the purse strings, he was able to get custody of the organization's membership lists, contributors' lists and bank assets.

Last Nov. 15, shortly after the election, Carto called the Youth for Wallace leaders together and persuaded them to keep the organization intact. They renamed it the National Youth Alliance, adopted the Nazi credo as its guiding philosophy, launched a propaganda campaign against campus communists and organized rallies across the nation — at Georgia Tech in Atlanta, UCLA in Los Angeles, Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah, and other universities.

At Wayne State University in Detroit, they organized a "Shock Squad" armed with rifles and trained in karate. They are now planning a "White Power" rally at UCLA.

In a letter to NYA leaders, Carto explained that "our strategy has to be to aim for building a hard core for leadership and then to try and get a large following in every section of the country."

The Nazi takeover was so subtle, however, that most of the youth leaders didn't realize it. Carto got their agreement that the NYA would take its ideology from "Imperium." Unfortunately, the young leaders hadn't heard of "Imperium" and didn't realize it was the "Mein Kampf" of the American Nazi movement.

Not until too late did they discover that they had agreed, in effect, to turn the NYA into a Hitler Youth movement. The Nazis finally surfaced at a Jan. 25th meeting at Conley's Motel near Monroeville, Pa. They wore swastika pins, displayed swastika banners, sang Nazi marching songs and traded Nazi war relics.

The NYA's national officers — John Acord, Dennis McMahon and Louis Andrews — immediately tried to purge the Nazis but were forced out themselves by Carto. Another anti-Nazi slate, headed by NYA Chairman Pat Tifer, a Wayne State student, won a subsequent election at an NYA organizational meeting March 29-30 at Pittsburgh's Pick-Roosevelt Hotel.

Tifer immediately fired off a blistering letter to Carto, declaring that his election was "a clear, final and absolute rejection of the philosophy of Nazism and those in our organization who were promoting various shades of it."

"It is becoming increasingly apparent to me that these pro-Nazi parasites in our organization are not only maintaining their membership but, with your encouragement, continuing under the name of the NYA to spread their sick philosophy of totalitarianism."

"Therefore, and with no regrets," he added, "I as National Chairman of NYA am hereby revoking your associate membership... your placement of pro-Nazi individuals into key leadership positions and your fostering of a brown-shirt mentality in the NYA is intolerable."

"Also I am ordering an immediate halt to the distribution of the book 'Imperium' because of its blatant racist and anti-Christian stance. I order you to turn over to me all bank assets, membership lists, contributor lists and other important documents necessary to the maintenance of NYA."

Carto countered by having his stooges in the NYA send Tifer a telegram declaring that he had been ousted. Meanwhile, Carto not only holds all the NYA's finances and records but he is going ahead with a $17,000 program to publish "Imperium" in paperback for distribution on the campuses. He also sent money to NYA leaders in Massachusetts to spread anti-communist literature at Harvard.

Most of the former Youth for Wallace leaders, however, stand with Tifer and will join him in legal action against the Nazis.

The Lincoln Memorial

There just isn't too much the one-cent piece will buy today, except maybe a few extra pages in history, but every attempt to replace it or have it discontinued as a denomination meets with more public resentment than a tax increase. The experts maintain that the cent has not only outlived its design life span but also its usefulness as a denomination in our circulating medium, yet none have been able to do anything about it.

Let's face it, the Lincoln penny is here to stay. It is as much a part of our everyday lives as that first cup of coffee in the morning and if you don't think so, write your congressman and suggest a change but be ready for a brusque brush-off. About seven months ago this column, under the title cent denomination eliminated.

This reaction should be gratifying to Frank Gasparro, chief engraver for the United States Mint. His Memorial design on the 1969 reverse gave some of the readers exactly what they were looking for—Lincoln on both sides of the coin. This is the first time in the history of U.S. coinage that one piece has contained the likeness of the same person on both the obverse and reverse; it is the first coin to carry the profile of a president; the first to bear a recognizable likeness of any person; the first design to remain unchanged for more than a half century; the only coin with the device facing right in our present coinage system and the first coin to display the initials of two different designers.

On a well-struck coin, and with a magnifying glass, details of the Lincoln statue are readily discernable.

The reverse design was approved by President Eisenhower in 1958 as a feature of the Lincoln Sesquicentennial observance.

The initials V.D.B. (Victor D. Brenner) are shown just under the cut-off of Lincoln's coat sleeve on the obverse, and Frank Gasparro's initials F.G. may be seen to the extreme right of the Memorial base.

I know Frank Gasparro, and I know he is a very unassuming, dedicated man whose sole intention is to please the public with his work. If anyone would like to drop a line and express appreciation for the Memorial design I know Frank would be pleased. Just write Frank Gasparro, Chief Engraver, United States Mint, Philadelphia, Pa.

Land That Summer Job

By BETTY CANARY

There are various reasons why students will be out soon looking for summer employment. Some want to get a head start on a future career and some have been pushed by parents. The main objective remains. They want to make some money.

It is common knowledge that having an A-average doesn't mean instant employment and I have asked personnel managers of businesses and employment agencies for tips on what turns them off when kids turn up at desks and counters.

A surprise was that not one person mentioned long hair. Only a few brought up the subject of miniskirts. The big complaint was uncleanness. Dirty fingernails and soiled clothing headed the list.

A garage mechanic told me he could always find places for "a couple of boys who want to learn." He also told me that while he did not expect them to show up wearing a suit and tie when applying for work, he did expect them to appear in a clean tee shirt and blue jeans that wouldn't stand alone.

One of the biggest gripes was, as usual, the young person's difficulty in filling out an application and I was asked if I thought the employer should spend his time teaching a student to answer simple questions. One employer swears a girl asked to borrow a telephone book last summer in order to look up her own address.

What I think is that if high schools give practice tests and take time to acquaint students with college entrance forms, the least they can do is offer an hour or two each spring for the purpose of helping students apply for jobs. Some schools do offer help by showing sample application forms along with tips about grooming and everyday good manners. Unfortunately, most of these are available only to students taking commercial courses and other students never hear about them.

For those who don't have this opportunity, then I ask them to believe, as I do, that The Public Library Is My Friend. There are books on the subject, with chapters devoted to everything from "Don't Cough in the Manager's Face," to "Jobs Your Mother Never Told You About." If a teen-ager hasn't yet learned to use the card file index, a librarian will be glad to help him.

There is one nationwide employment agency that gives free help to students. It lists, without charge, available jobs in the community and furnishes teens with a free booklet entitled "Finding Summer Employment," which gives the how, where, when and why of jobs for high school and college students.

The community where I live operated a special service last summer called Youth Employment Service (YES) where businesses listed their employment needs. The cost was borne by local businessmen and the organization was handled by the Chamber of Commerce. Besides a pool of jobs, the student encountered a really interested director who was ready with job-hunting ideas, including going home and washing first and not wearing a sequined blouse or bathing suit and taking along the Social Security card and driver's license. The operation was labeled a success by both employers and employees.

Apple for the Teacher

By CYRENÉ DEAR

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Mrs. William Joseph Randall, wife of Missouri's 4th District Congressman, was hostess to five friends from Independence, who came especially to attend the annual breakfast given by the Congressional Club in honor of Mrs. Nixon at the Shoreham Hotel, April 23rd. Margaret Randall is one of the five Vice-Presidents in this distinguished organization composed of wives of members and former members of Congress.

The officers of the Club, Cabinet and Supreme Court wives were escorted individually by a scarlet uniformed marine down the festooned red carpeted runway to their seats at the head table. As Margaret Randall in her smart dark suit and off-the-face white hat and her handsome marine marched by, she got special applause from her Missouri friends.

This year's theme for the occasion was "An Apple for the Teacher" honoring the First Lady. There were apples everywhere — on the program, the menu, the table centerpiece and a big red banner at the head table.

Anyone expecting eggs and bacon didn't get it at this breakfast. Those who fasted until noon were well nourished with lobster bisque, stuffed avocado with chicken salad, surrounded by asparagus tips, egg slices and a spiced red apple, with lemon pie and coffee for dessert. All eyes were on Pat Nixon who picked at her food and sipped her coffee. No wonder she wears size 8. Her costume was a light blue, short jacket suit with full skirt which set off her high style blonde hair. She said, "I will treasure this album presented to me by this Club and I will paste the red apple program on the first page."

This was strictly a fun day without serious speeches — just the proper thank-you to all who had worked so hard for the Congressional Club's annual salute to the First Lady. There was music by the marine band and guest artist, singer John Gary, accompanied by the John Price Quartet gave a varied program of songs which brought both laughter and tears. He ended with his own arrangement of "An Apple for the Teacher." As a grand finale he walked up to the head table and handed Mrs. Nixon a well polished apple.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q — Is there any way I can have more taken out of my paycheck? I was under-withheld last year even though I didn't claim any exemptions.

A — Yes, you may file a new withholding certificate with your employer. On this certificate, Form W-2, indicate the additional amount you want taken out of each paycheck. Your employer will tell you when the change will be effective.

A teen-ager looking at an automobile with running boards and a crank might say, "What will they think of next?" Of course, well-informed teen-agers know more about all sorts of cars than their parents.

Similarly, a well-informed young bridge player would know that the modern trend to limit jump raises just takes us back to 1930 when forcing jump raises were just being invented.

North's jump to three hearts is one of those limit raises. He is not strong enough to force to game, yet his hand clearly calls for some sort of heart raise and a mere two-heart call is inadequate.

The limit jump raise gets South to game quickly. He has full values for his opening bid, plus one extra queen.

Against any defense, except the ace of clubs lead followed by a club continuation, South will wrap up his contract since he only loses two aces and the king of diamonds. The actual defense forces South to show his mettle. If he wins the second club and goes right after trumps, East will hop up with his ace and give his partner a club ruff, whereupon West will get out with a spade and wait for his diamond trick.

An alert South will make the contract in spite of all East and West have done.

He will see the danger of an immediate trump play and will try to strip the West hand of any out cards first. Thus, he will cash the ace of spades at trick three, lead a spade to dummy's king at trick four, ruff a spade at trick five and then lead a trump.

East will take his ace and give his partner that club ruff but that will end proceedings for the defense. West will have to lead a diamond up to South's ace-queen combination and South won't have to lose a diamond trick.

QUICK QUIZ

Q—Whom would the U.S. president notify were he to submit his resignation?

A—The secretary of state.

Q—During what war did the United States invade Canada?

A—American forces captured York (now Toronto), the capital of Upper Canada, during the War of 1812.

Q—Why is the compass point so called?

A—Its leaves and branches point in the direction of the cardinal points of the compass.

Seek Steps to Control Increase in Food Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several congressional economic experts say the government must do something about the unexpected rise in the cost of food now predicted for this year if inflation is to be controlled.

But there was no agreement on what to do, with solutions ranging from possible wage-price controls to a revamping of federal farm subsidies.

The Agriculture Department said this week that earlier forecasts that food costs would rise this year 2 to 2.5 per cent was being revised upward. An official said the figure would more likely be about 3 per cent.

Food prices last year jumped 4.3 per cent. The price of food makes up 20 per cent of the overall cost of living, which climbed 4.7 per cent in 1968, the biggest jump since the Korean War year of 1951.

One congressman, Rep. William B. Widnall of New Jersey, indicated the unexpected rise in food costs are the result of a general inflationary psychology. If it continues, he said, "I am afraid we'll see the last thing I want to see—direct controls on wages and prices."

Widnall is the senior Republican House member of Congress' Joint Economic Committee.

Another member of the committee, Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., said the administration's goal of containing inflation this year allowed for too much increase to begin with, and the rise in food prices would push it still higher.

The chairman of the House Banking subcommittee on consumer affairs, Rep. Leonor K. Sullivan, D-Mo., also said the escalating price on food might call for attention to farm programs.

"I really don't want to take off on an administration that has been in office only a short time," she said, "but inflation goes on unchecked and they haven't sent anything up."

But Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, defended both the administration and farmers, saying it is up to Congress to prove its sincerity in opposing inflation.

Miller, a member of the joint committee, said it is reasonable that prices received by farmers should increase as much as prices farmers have to pay.

If food prices increased 4.3 per cent last year and increase only 3 per cent this year, he continued, this would not be out of line with the program of gradually clamping down on inflation.

"If those in charge of Congress are anti-inflationary in deeds as well as words, we can get inflationary psychology under control," Miller said.

"This means continuing the surtax, repealing the investment credit, and keeping appropriations down to the levels in President Nixon's budget recommendations. We'll see how sincere Congress is during the next few months as the appropriations come through."

Widnall said his impression is that "labor and everybody else is asking for more than ever before, to hedge against inflation."

He added, however, he sees little of this tendency on the part of farmers and attributed the food price increases to higher processing and distribution charges.

Win Latin Awards

Debbie Schroeder, left, and Keith Hawkins, right, were awarded gold keys for outstanding scholastic achievement in Latin II and Latin I, respectively. New Officers Are Installed

The final meeting of the Hubbard School PTA was held April 21 with Alberta Buckner, president, presiding.

Mrs. Mary Nakamura introduced the Rev. J. E. Erickson, pastor of Ward Memorial Baptist Church, who gave the devotional, relating the story of "The Good Samaritan" to reveal the attitude of people towards others. He concluded by saying, "when we care, we share."

Mrs. Evelyn Cox, past president, conducted the installation ceremony for newly elected officers. Mrs. Belya Morney, president; Mrs. Lemma Poole, first vice president; Mrs. Mary Craig, second vice president; Mrs. Lilah Herndon, secretary and Mrs. Gloria Shepard, treasurer.

The past president pin was presented to Mrs. Alberta Buckner by Mrs. Zula Wright. The new music teacher, Britt Bernard, was introduced by Mrs. D. M. Kitchen, mistress of ceremonies for the evening program. Mrs. Kitchen read a poem, "Dream... Faith... Prayer," stating PTA was born as a result of these three things.

Instrumental solos were given by Douglas Roseman, Melvin Kerr and Miss Churphena Reid, under the direction of Mr. Bernard. Mrs. Kathryn Rayford directed the Elementary School Chorus as they presented several musical selections.

Drill teams performed under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. A. Byrd. Room count was won by Ralph Lee, fifth grade teacher.

Mrs. Zula Wright, program chairman, expressed gratitude to the members for their cooperation in PTA during the year.

Area Clubs

Thursday Extension Homemakers Club held its regular April meeting at the home of Mrs. George Croll.

"Fashions and Fabrics" was the title of the clothing lesson presented by Mrs. Kenneth Tilman and Mrs. Charles Dithley. A demonstration was given showing how to determine what fibers a fabric contains by burning a small portion of the fabric or a few threads of the material. "Unity of Design" and "A Strong Focal Point" in clothing design were also presented.

Mrs. Arthur Mahin gave information on "Home and Community Development," with special emphasis on 4-H work.

Mrs. Raymond Wasson, president, presided over the meeting. Arbor Day was mentioned in several informative ways by members as they answered roll call.

On May 8 the Thursday Club will meet with Mrs. G. L. Johnson.

Mrs. William Harris was hostess for the April 23 meeting of the Liberty Homemakers Extension Club. Mrs. Tom Schneider was a guest.

A tea was served at Mrs. Harris' home in Cole Camp. Mrs. Harris resigned from her position as club president and will be moving to Salida, Colo.

Mrs. Parke Green was in charge of the devotional.

The club will observe National Music Week in cooperation with the Helen G. Steele Music Club at the May meeting.

The next meeting will be May 21 and will feature a lesson on safety presented by Mrs.

Kenneth Bell. Mrs. A. H. Tobaben will be the May hostess.

CLARKSBURG — Mrs. Margaret Stephens was hostess for the April 23 meeting of the Ready and Willing Workers Club. Guests were Mrs. Herman Taggart, Mrs. Mary Alldredge, Mrs. Marie Knitker and Mrs. Eunice Smith. Mrs. Smith became a new member.

Surgical dressings were prepared by the group and lap robes for nursing home patients were completed.

Miss Marie Vaughan will be hostess at the next meeting.

HOUSTONIA — Nine members of the Houstonia Homemakers held their April meeting at the home of Mrs. Everett Blackburn.

Mrs. Blackburn and Mrs. Wilbur Alexander gave beauty tips from the self-improvement course they are attending. Mrs. Harry Baker and Mrs. Wilbert Fisher presented the lesson on care and identification of fabrics.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Wilbert Fischer and will feature a program on health and safety.

Malpractice Insurance Rates Boost Cost of Medical Care

By CHARLES G. MCDANIEL
AP Science Writer

Malpractice suits filed by patients against doctors are contributing to the increased cost of medical care in the United States.

Rates on malpractice insurance for doctors have soared across the country and the increased costs are borne, at least in part, by the patient.

Statistics show that one doctor out of every six of the 300,000 in the United States has been, or is being, sued for malpractice. Last year, doctors paid $75 million in malpractice insurance premiums.

Some $18 million was paid in awards to patients in 1968, according to Bernard D. Hirsh, general counsel of the American Medical Association. Legal fees added to the costs.

William F. Martin, a New York lawyer, said in a paper recently before the National Medical Symposium in Las Vegas: "Spokesman both for the medical profession and the insurance industry agree that the higher rates are caused by the increased number of malpractice suits being filed by disgruntled patients and the larger settlements being made both in and out of court."

The Insurance Information Institute in New York says premiums on malpractice insurance are up 47 per cent over a year ago.

The institute, in a recent announcement of rate revisions, stated that from 1959 through 1963, insurance companies paid $140 for every $100 received in premiums from physicians. For surgeons it was $151 for every $100.

Recent revisions upped malpractice rates in 27 states, while reducing them in two.

The increases ranged from 10 per cent in four states to 75 per cent in Montana and Ohio and 100 per cent in Vermont. Rates in six states went up 50 to 60 per cent.

Rates were reduced 10 per cent in New Hampshire and 15 per cent in Oregon.

Rates for hospitals maintaining liability insurance likewise are rising.

There are other patient costs, too, engendered by extra-cautions—and perhaps unnecessary—tests, a committee of the AMA trustees reported.

There are no recent statistics to show whether there has been an increase in malpractice suits filed, but many doctors, lawyers and insurance men say there has been.

Martin cited these cases as examples of the trend toward higher awards:

A woman in Florida received a $1.5 million verdict in an anesthesia mishap; $1.4 million to a California man similarly injured, and $1.25 million to a New Mexico boy whose scalp was severely burned in treatment for ringworm.

Some physicians pay $12,000 to $15,000 a year for maximum coverage, an AMA official said.

Minimum coverage might cost $400 to $600 for protection against claims of up to $5,000. Many hospitals insist that doctors with staff privileges carry at least $100,000 in insurance, and often more.

Speeches and articles by doctors and lawyers and files of the American Medical Association list a number of reasons for the filing of malpractice suits.

Among the most prominently mentioned are:

—With the number of doctors failing to increase as rapidly as the population, doctors are busier and the doctor-patient relationship is less personal than that of the sentimentally recalled family doctor.

—Lawyers pressing malpractice claims are paid a contingent fee; that is, their fee depends on whether they win the case, and then it is a percentage of the award to the plaintiff. This is said to encourage vigorous trial of a claim and pressing juries for big awards.

—Courts are more liberal in the type of evidence permitted in malpractice suits. In the past, it has been difficult to get a doctor to testify against one of his colleagues, but now textbooks and outside experts are permitted in court.

—Publicity given malpractice suits, whether the suits are successful or not, encourages others to file suits.

—The public has been oversold on the value of modern drugs and modern surgical techniques, so more is expected from doctors and hospitals than sometimes can be delivered.

Richard P. Bergen, director of the AMA's department of legal research, said the trend to higher awards to successful plaintiffs results from the fact that the public is aware that doctors have the highest average income of any professional group so juries decide "for the working stiff."

He said this trend also results in part from inflation (other jury awards also are up); the awareness on the part of the jury that insurance companies are going to have to pay and they resent insurance companies because of their experiences with them; and the knowledge among jurors that lawyers will get a third to half of any award.

The cost of malpractice insurance is especially prohibitive for young physicians starting their practice.

But more serious than the cost to this group and other physicians, Bergen says, is the cancellation of policies and the leaving of the malpractice field by some insurance companies.

Presents Concert

BUNCETON — The high school music department under the direction of Mrs. Shelby Siegel, held its spring concert April 22 at the school. Accompanists were Mrs. Carl Cole and Miss Lana Lowe.

Performing were the mixed chorus, boys chorus, girls chorus, madrigal, boys quartet, junior high chorus, beginning band and soloists. All those eligible for the state music contest performed.

Although the concert was free, donations were given at the door to pay contest expenses.

Tigers Drop Final Game To the Columbians, 3-2

The Smith-Cotton Tigers got off to an early lead in Thursday's final game of the sub-district baseball tournament against the Columbia Kewpies, but it wasn't enough to pull the strings of victory, as they were edged, 3-2.

S-C scored two runs in the top of the first when with one out, Steve Young was issued a walk. Steve Gerlecz stepped to the plate and ended up on first while Young went to second when the Columbia shortstop bobbled the sharply hit grounder.

Dave Nash sacrificed the runners ahead one base when he hit a fly that the center fielder gathered in for the second out.

Terry Hudson hit a grounder to the shortstop and was ruled safe at first when the throw was wild. Both Young and Gerlecz crossed the plate, scoring what were to be the only Tiger runs.

Jim Lewis, the Bengal's hurler, disposed of the Kewpies one, two, three in the home half of the first, but when S-C failed to score in the second, Columbia chalked up a run.

With one out, Hickman beat out an infield grounder and went to second on Gerlecz's throwing error to first base.

Columbia's Hill popped out to second. Campbell followed with a single and went to second as S-C's left fielder made a wild toss to the infield. The throw also allowed Columbia's first run to score, as Hickman crossed the plate.

The Kewpies made their third out before they could do any more damage.

As the Tigers started their turn at bat in the top of the third, it looked as if they were going to add some insurance to their one run lead.

Mike Dalton led off by dumping a single to right. Young sacrificed Dalton to second, but Steve Gerlecz popped out to the second baseman and Nash hit into an unassisted put out at first. Dalton was left stranded at second.

Even though the Kewpies failed to score in the bottom of the third, a judgment call by the first base umpire sent Coach Skip Schulz storming off the bench.

With two out, Dersham hit a slow roller down the first base line that either looked as if it rolled out of bounds and then came back in play or that the runner interfered with Dave Nash's chances of fielding ball, but the umpire ruled neither way and Dersham was credited with an infield base hit.

Both sides were quiet until the sixth, when the course of the game switched to the Kewpies.

Dersham singled just to the left of Gerlecz at short and stole second. White popped to catcher J. T. Rissler, but Roemaker drove across the tying run when he lined a single to left field. He later stole third and came in on a single by Hill, which proved to be the deciding run.

It looked as if S-C had a chance to at least tie the game when Steve Holmes walked to open the top of the seventh and went to second on a wild pitch. Before he could score, Rissler and Eck struck out and Mike Dalton ended the contest with a grounder third.

The final count: Columbia three, Smith-Cotton 2.

Columbia now moves on to the district meet. The district winners advance to Meador Park in Springfield for the state finals, May 23 and 24.

Lakers Now Lead, 3-2

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers head to Boston leading the National Basketball Association championship playoffs 3-2 but with their sharpest shooter, Jerry West, injured.

After scoring 39 points in the Lakers' 117-104 triumph at The Forum on Thursday night, West limped from the floor with a pulled left hamstring muscle.

"I'm sure when I wake up Saturday morning, I'll know if I can play or not," said Jerry after undergoing initial treatment.

The sixth game of the best-of-seven series goes at the Boston Garden at 5 p.m. EDT, Saturday afternoon. Without West, who has been averaging 39.6 against the Celtics, the Laker offense loses its zing, and Los Angeles must win once more to take the title.

"I was stretching and Emmette Bryant bumped me," was the way West described the injury. "You only pull a muscle by stretching it, not by getting hit by somebody."

Also injured, but not so seriously, was 7-foot-2 Wilt Chamberlain who suffered a bruised eye when he was hit, also by Bryant.

Chamberlain was hurt in the third period, but returned after a minute's rest.

"Things were blurry for the rest of the game," asserted the big guy who hauled down 31 rebounds while his arch-foe Bill Russell could grab but 13.

Coach Bill Van Breda Kolff made a lineup switch when he sent Keith Erickson in at a starting forward spot, primarily to check John Havlicek, the Celtic's scoring star.

Havlicek scored only six points through three periods although winding up with 18. When Erickson would leave, Tom Hawkins came in to handle the guarding assignment.

"I made up my mind to start Erickson after the Tuesday night game," the coach said. In that 89-88 Laker loss in Boston, Erickson didn't allow Havlicek a field goal in the final period.

"If West can't play Saturday, Keith will go to the back court," Van Breda Kolff added.

Boston led 24-23 at the end of the first quarter before the 17,553 fans, but the Lakers rallied in the second and pulled ahead at 49-45.

Perhaps the most important play came midway in the third when West drove in to score on a reverse layup and draw a foul from Russell, the fourth for the player-coach, who had to go cautiously from then on.

Russell refused comment but Havlicek said, "we were hurt because we were double teaming a lot and the open man was scoring, sometimes Egan, sometimes Erickson. I just didn't have a good shooting night early in the game. Sam Jones and Larry Siegfried were shooting well, so I didn't take as many shots as I might have normally."

Egan, the running mate for West in the back court, scored 23 points while Erickson tallied 16.

Jones paced Boston with 25 while Siegfried tallied 20.

Tennis Squads Down the Owls At Marshall

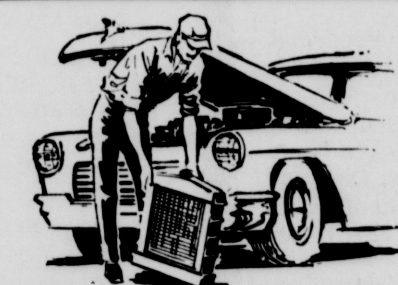

The Smith-Cotton boys' and girls' tennis squads both defeated Marshall Thursday by total team scores of 5-2 and 4-3 respectively. This win marked the girls' last match of the '69 season.

Individual singles action saw Dennis Bruns downing Swisher 10-4; John Ball winning over Du Bois 10-5; and John Jackson edging out B. Ball 12-10.

In pro-10 double sets, the S-C duo of Bruns and Maness captured a win by defeating Ball and Boyer 10-4, while a second S-C doubles victory came by Ball and Jackson downing Swisher and Du Bois 10-6.

Winning singles play for the Tiger girls included Clydia Smith edging out Lear 10-8; Ruth Cain defeating McCallum, also by a score 10-8; and Sally Doubles downing Ried 10-7.

Doubles play witnessed one girls' win — Smith and Cain winning over Scoll and Belwood 8-6.

It's Royals from Behind

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Pesky Kansas City, given a 10th-inning reprieve when it botched up a rundown that could easily have lost the game, scrambled back to nip the Chicago White Sox, 5-4 in 12 innings, Thursday night and swept a two-game series.

The White Sox must have felt as if they were looking in a mirror at the Chicago teams of recent years. The Royals won both games the way the White Sox have been winning them for years—taking advantage of the other guy's mistakes.

Wednesday night, the Royals won 3-2 with the winning run scoring in the last of the ninth on a passed ball.

Thursday night, Kansas City scratched out two unearned runs to nullify two home runs the White Sox hit.

"We don't care how we do it, just so we do it," Royals Manager Joe Gordon said as his club climbed back to .500. "That's the reason it's so important for those middle-inning relief pitchers to hold them. We can gradually creep up, but we very seldom get runs in bunches."

The Royals trailed 4-1 and managed only four hits off Joe Horlen for six innings. The White Sox built their lead on Carlos May's first-inning homer, Horlen's run-scoring single in the fourth and Don Pavletich's two-run homer in the fifth.

Four straight hits, capped by pinch hitter Lou Piniella's two-run double, trimmed it to 4-3 and chased Horlen in the seventh. The Royals then tied on Bob "Hawk" Taylor's two-out single in the last of the ninth.

Chuck Harrison led off the Royals' 12th with a single and stole second. Two batters went out before Mike Fiore was intentionally walked to bring up Joe Foy.

He smacked a pitch from loser Sammy Ellis into center field to drive in the winning run.

"It was a slider, I think," Foy said. "After I swung at the first pitch, a fastball, and missed it, I knew he (Ellis) was going to be nibbling at me, so I knew I'd be seeing some curves and sliders."

The play that nearly took the Royals out of the game in the 10th came on a suicide squeeze with Duane Josephson on third after he was hit by a pitch, went to second on a wild pitch and to third on a sacrifice.

Walt Williams tried to squeeze Josephson home, but missed the pitch from Dave Wickersham and Josephson got hung up between third and home. Royals catcher Jim Campanis made a bad throw to Foy, however, and Josephson ducked under Foy's tag attempt to get back to the bag.

The White Sox now are 4-5 against the American League's two expansion clubs, Kansas City and Seattle.

"I don't know if they're any better than the expansion clubs were eight years ago," Sox Manager Al Lopez said. "But they're sure playing good ball. They've been tough for us so far."

Cards Find Win Behind Nellie Briles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nelson Briles held Pittsburgh to six hits to notch his first victory of the season as the St. Louis Cardinals clobbered the Pirates 9-3, while the Kansas City Royals squeaked past the Chicago White Sox for the second straight night, 5-4 in 12 innings, Thursday night.

Briles, who had lost two decisions, benefited from an 11-hit Cardinal attack which was paced by Jim Hicks' two-run triple—his first hit of the season—and Vada Pinson's three runs batted in on a double and sacrifice fly.

Hicks staked the Cards to a 2-0 lead in the fourth, and they got the eventual winning run on an error, a sacrifice by Julian Javier, and a single by Curt Flood in the fifth.

Briles said the hit gave him a boost. "I finally had the control I've wanted," he said. "Maybe this is a sign things will be going better for us."

Vada Pinson, who did not start the game because of a sore leg, came in as a pinch batter in the eighth inning to drive in two runs and score one himself.

"I told Red (Manager Red Schoendienst) I could pinch hit and he put me in. It worked out okay," Pinson said.

The Pirates got to Briles for a pair of unearned runs in the sixth, but St. Louis got going again with three runs each in the eighth and ninth innings. Errors by Javier and Mike Shannon led to the Pirates' two runs in the sixth.

The Cardinals return home and tonight open a three-game weekend series in Busch Stadium against Philadelphia.

S-C Jayvees Take Pair At Warsaw

The Smith-Cotton JV wound up the season by taking two from Warsaw "A," Thursday at Warsaw.

Bob Pledge pitched the Tigers to a 3 to 0 victory. This made Bob's record 6 and 0 and an earn run average of .079.

The second game was pitched by Swoop Henderson, who went the distance to win also 3 to 0. This puts his record at 4 and 0 with 2 saves.

Coach Shepherd said that the ball club was even better than last year's.

The Tigers had an 11-1 record to last year's 11 and 3. The Tigers won the class "S" by defeating the Warsaw team 3 out of 4 games. Outstanding players at the plate were Steve Young batting .546 and Will Smith batting .394 and stealing 15 bases. In the fielding was Gary Whitfield and McFarland also Willie Reed. The team's batting average of .312 was outstanding to last year's.

'Law Day' is Used as a Forum To Condemn Campus Violence

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, using the observance of "Law Day 1969" as a forum, has renewed its attacks on campus violence.

Justice Department officials, headed by Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, fanned out across the country to speak at Law Day ceremonies Thursday and demand an end to student disorders.

Picking up the theme President Nixon outlined earlier in the week, Mitchell demanded that university officials and local law officials put an end to the student violence.

"Violence and dissatisfaction on our college campuses are a serious threat to our system of law, a threat as disturbing as the violence in our cities," Mitchell said to the Detroit, Mich., Bar Association annual Law Day dinner.

The administration has tried to be patient in the face of continuing campus chaos, Mitchell said, but "the time has come for an end to patience."

"The time has come for us to demand, in the strongest possible terms, that university officials, local enforcement agencies and local courts apply the law," Mitchell declared.

"If arrests must be made, then arrests should be," he said. "If violators must be prosecuted, then prosecutions should be."

Nixon, in a Tuesday speech to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, called on college administrators to take the necessary action to stop campus violence or see an end to the American education system.

Mitchell, who attacked student militants as "nothing but tyrants," was joined in the assault by two key aides—Deputy Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst and Asst. Atty. Gen. William H. Rehnquist—who made Law Day speeches in Washington and Newark, Del., respectively.

The emphasis was on local law officials and college heads ending the campus problem. But the administration officials did not rule out future federal intervention, although there were no indications of quick action.

As Mitchell spoke in Detroit, there were voices on Capitol Hill calling for Senate investigations and grand jury probes and suggesting the country may be in the initial stages of revolution.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., announced that the Senate's permanent investigation subcommittee will start hearings in about a month on campus disorders.

Federal grand jury probes were urged by Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., in areas where there have been college disturbances. He said evidence indicates "that there is an active, aggressive national conspiracy to disrupt 'the peace and dignity of the academic communities.'" the split between the Soviet Union and Communist China. Nor should the United States choose sides in the clash between the two Communist arch-rivals. Rather, Washington should seek to improve its relations with both.

Toward the Communist countries of East Europe, once regarded by Washington as part of a block, the United States will now pursue individual policies based on the situation in each case.

The United States has no hard information to backup rumors of an impending change in the Kremlin leadership. The Soviet leaders do have problems with Peking, Czechoslovakia and the Russian economy. But it is impossible from here to predict there will be a switch in Kremlin rulers.

China Still Militant, Lin's Speech Shows

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nixon administration strategists say the latest Peking developments show Communist China is still a long way from a friendly entry into the community of nations.

The Washington assessment includes a study of the 24,000-word report delivered by Deputy Chairman Lin Biao to the recently concluded Chinese Communist party congress. Lin Biao, designated successor to Chairman Mao Tse Tung, said among other things:

"The truth that 'political power grows out of the barrel of a gun' is being grasped by ever broader masses of the oppressed people and nations."

Mao's heir apparent went on to denounce both "U.S. imperialism and Soviet revisionist social-imperialism" and praise "the national liberation movement" in "armed struggles of the people" ranging from South Vietnam to Palestine, Africa and Latin America.

These statements were noted at a State Department briefing Wednesday on U.S. policy toward Red China and the Soviet Union. Officials, who spoke under rules barring identification by name, gave the briefing to some 400 business executives.

Although the Nixon administration says it is trying to improve relations with all Communist countries, including China, the officials said Peking's posture makes it appear that a long road lies ahead.

The Soviets, on the other hand, have shown many signs of wanting to improve their relations with Western countries in general and the United States in particular, the officials said. They added:

—There is no profit in the United States trying to exploit

'Correct Posture Week' Proclaimed By the Mayor

The Missouri State Chiropractic Association has proclaimed the week of May 1-7 as Correct Posture Week and Mayor Ralph Walker has signed a proclamation for that week in Sedalia.

Objective of the week is to instill in the minds of the public that good posture is one sign of good health. Emphasis of the observance is on correct posture for school children.

Variety of Explanations For Activity of Market

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Once again the stock market has surged ahead, spinning off digital records like a crazy adding machine, running up new scores in volume and indices and even on blood pressure charts of those caught short.

Next to baseball, there is probably no other area of human enterprise with such a fascination for statistics.

The 19,350,000 shares traded Wednesday, for example, made this the busiest four-hour session in history. And the 16.08 point gain in the Dow Jones industrial average was the biggest since April 8, 1968. And so on.

So what else is new? Aren't thermometers and Yo-Yos and stock markets supposed to go up and down? Can they do anything else, such as drawing figure eights? Isn't an up-down motion what makes a market?

What IS new in the market place are the explanations. Like students in the spring, the stock market is going to act no matter what the reason. Explanations to fit can be arranged later.

The problem of producing explanations is this: Whereas the stock market goes in only two directions the logic for such movements must sound fresh and pertinent a couple of hundred times a year.

Now a good broker would no more be caught without an explanation than a witch doctor would admit losing contact with the spirits. He can never tell his clients the obvious, that prices rise because customers like him are buying stocks. That isn't profound enough.

Lately the explanations have been variations of these:

—Peace hopes. Around for many months now, this reason is beginning to look shopworn. Peace rumors apparently reach Wall Street before they get to the Pentagon.

In fact, some observers claim that shortly before some sudden increases in market prices they have seen peace doves tossed aloft from brokers' windows. The brokers claim the sightings are illusions or just plain window-dressing pigeons. But by then the rumor has had its effect.

—An easing of fears that the monetary system might collapse. This, too, is an old one, and frequently is used by people who have no idea what a collapse would mean to the market.

—Inflation. This can be good news or bad news, depending on which you choose. Inflation should draw money into the market. But inflation threatens the economy. An all-purpose explanation.

Another group of analysts, the chartists, refer to the lines and graphs that trace popular emotions—as described by earlier stock market behavior—and decide that when Point A is reached, Result X should ensue.

But there might, after all, be some pretty simple explanations of market activity. They may not be as satisfying and they may be too simple to bring acclaim to their believers, but here they are:

—The American economy, despite its widely publicized aches, pains and threatened breakdowns, is really a very vigorous body, and many millions of Americans believe deep in their hearts that great advances are ahead.

This isn't to ignore the defects or to say that more crises won't be faced. But when blue chip stocks have a way of doubling every five years it promotes confidence.

—When money pours into mutual and pension funds and other institutional accounts it must be invested. Such institutions can hold their cash for only a limited period; then, despite imperfect market conditions, they must invest.

The growth of such institutions has been enormous. And their cash position has grown in recent months. The large size of transaction Wednesday suggests that their dam of resistance simply burst.

—Institutions copy each other. When one acts some others usually follow. Since they have such enormous power, their impact on trading gives a hefty shove to prices.

GMA Strikes May Prove Expensive

DETROIT (AP) — Union officials said today a series of strikes which have idled more than 50,000 General Motors employees could be long and costly.

A GM spokesman declined to guess how long the walkout might last, saying, "There are too many variables to indicate whether the strike will be long or short."

The strike at facilities in Van Nuys, Calif., Kansas City, Baltimore, Atlanta, North Tarrytown, N.Y., and Janesville, Wis., began Monday.

That was the deadline set by the United Auto Workers for completion of new local contracts in the wake of the merger last November of Chevrolet and Fisher Body divisions in the six cities.

The union maintained that the merger eliminated jobs in some locations and forced remaining personnel to work faster to meet quotas. There were many other local issues.

And all 28,000 men struck at the six plants. They joined 8,100 UAW members who struck Fisher Body and Chevrolet plants in St. Louis April 10 over work standards.

GM said today that a total of 50,777 were now out of work because of the strikes.

Charles Tyer, president of UAW Local 93 at Kansas City said many rank and file members were probably thinking in terms of a walkout lasting three or four weeks. But he said he wouldn't be surprised to see a shutdown lasting six to eight weeks.

Nearly 15,000 of those out of work were laid off because their plants supplied parts used in assembly of the cars at the stuck plants.

The average wage of a GM production worker is $3.50 hourly or about $140 a week before deductions. Strike benefits paid by the UAW will be $20 a week for a single person, $25 if married and $35 for a family.

"As far as when it will be settled, I don't know," said L.L. Coats, chairman of the shop committee of Local 34 at Atlanta.

Attention Cooper County Residents

Consider The Future Of Your Children And Yourself

If this bond issue fails there will be no hospital facilities in Cooper County. In just 55 days from election day (MAY6) St. Joseph will close. What then?

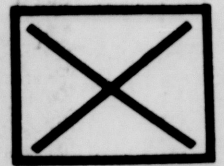

The hurt will be so bad for so many people that there will be a demand for a bond issue to build a new hospital. Our chance for federal funds may be gone and the cost doubled meaning of course double the proposed tax rate, and no hospital for four years or more.

Do you want your children to be without protection? Do you want to burden them with double costs in taxes?

Of course not. It would not make good sense so

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—I bought three old wicker chairs. two are painted and one is natural. Can I return the painted ones to their natural wicker look? If I paint them all the same color, what would be the easiest way to do it?—F. M.

DEAR POLLY and Frosty who lives in a mobile home —The moisture between the windows can probably be prevented by leaving a window open for cross ventilation. Also when cooking be sure to use the fan over the stove.—DOT, a travel-trailer owner.

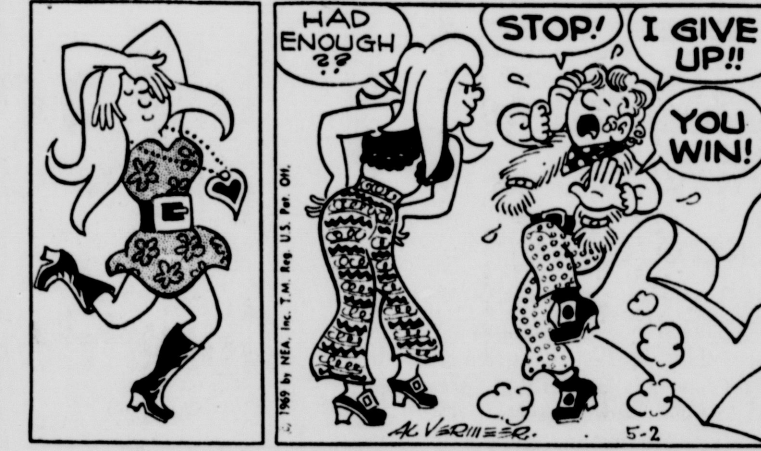

DEAR READERS—I have been advised that there is as much difference in trailer models as there is in makes of automobiles. As a general rule a little air circulation should do the trick. Storm windows on mobile homes are on the inside so the outside windows could be opened slightly to help prevent this moisture. Also the windows sometimes need new rubber. If they are completely airtight there should be no condensation between them.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—When most mothers have a lot of work to do they tell the children to run outdoors and play and not bother mother. There are many jobs around the house that the children might be doing to help. In the bedroom they can help make beds and straighten up shoes. Soiled clothes in the bathroom are easy to pick up and they may even scour the bathtub and sink. Children can run the vacuum and dust the furniture in the living room. They enjoy helping set the table and can help wash and dry the dishes. In the laundry let them sort the terry cloth items and socks, fold washcloths and sort and make piles of socks for each family member. When cleaning give the child a sponge, a little water and a section of the floor to scrub. This also goes for waxing. The best job you can give a child is to let him help on baking day.

I do not force a child to work. When one offers do not deny him the chance to help because you think you may have to do it over. Praise him (as you go over it) and no feelings are hurt. If the children are idle you are just wondering where they are and what they are doing. My mentally retarded son, 8, can do all the above things. Probably there are normal children who are not even encouraged to do such things to help. I know our 15-year-old, who is normal, did not help this much. When our last one was born he brought along two friends, Lotta Love and Lotta Patience.—Mrs. R. W.

"It WAS a delightful evening, Arlington. Too bad I didn't enjoy it!"

American League Roundup

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Denny McLain and Dave Boswell are walking around with lumps on their heads today. It only hurts when they laugh.

McLain tossed three hitless innings against Baltimore Thursday night before trying to field Boog Powell's comeback bounce with his forehead. It went for a single, but the Detroit ace shook off the cobwebs and yielded just two more hits as the Tigers beat the Orioles 2-0 on Bill Freehan's homer.

Boswell, his eye blackened and knee bruised from a scuffle with a fan the previous day, pitched five strong innings before giving way to reliever Joe Grzenda as the Minnesota Twins trimmed Seattle 4-1 in an afternoon game for their sixth straight victory.

McLain, who brought his record to 4-3 in a tight duel with previously unbeaten Jim Palmer, accepted his bump on the noggin in typical good humor. "It stung me, that's all," said the 1968 American League MVP. "If it hits my glove, I've got it. They call me 'Hot Hands.'"

Boswell, roughed up by the unidentified spectator after Wednesday's game against the Pilots, was understandably, a little less cheerful after his gutsy pitching effort for the streaking Twins.

He said the fan walked up to him and hit him on the head. When he asked for an apology, about five others tried to get at him.

"It was a free-for-all... on me," said the Minnesota right-hander, who was rescued by teammates Cesar Tovar and John Roseboro. "It bothers me when a guy like that comes up to you and treats you like an animal."

Boswell brightened when asked about Thursday's victory. "Joe (Grzenda) did his thing."

Everybody did their thing," he said.

In other AL games, California nipped Oakland 3-2 in 10 innings; Kansas City edged the Chicago White Sox 5-4 in 12; Washington got past Boston 7-6 and Cleveland downed the New York Yankees 6-2.

In the National League, Houston's Don Wilson hurled a no-hit 4-0 victory over Cincinnati; Montreal shaded the New York Mets 3-2; St. Louis smacked Pittsburgh 9-3; Los Angeles zipped San Francisco 5-0 and San Diego defeated Atlanta 4-3. The Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Phillies were not scheduled.

McLain, beaten by the high-flying Orioles at Baltimore eight days ago, struck out six, walked one and won the return match in one hour and 49 minutes.

"I didn't have good stuff in Baltimore, but here I had real good stuff," said the stocky right-hander, who topped the majors with 31 victories a year ago.

Palmer, 3-1, allowed two hits before leaving for a pinch hitter in the eighth, but one of them was Freehan's fifth homer, a two-run shot in the fifth. It was the 99th career clout for the big Detroit catcher.

Boswell limited the Pilots to three hits, including a homer by Wayne Comer, before his banged-up left knee forced him out of the game. Grzenda came out to complete a five-hit and wrap up Boswell's third victory in five decisions.

Rookie Charlie Manuel delivered two Minnesota runs with a third inning single and a bases-loaded walk in the fifth.

Oakland reliever Lew Krause filled the bases on two walks and a single in the 10th inning, then nicked Tom Satriano with a pitch, forcing in the winning run. The Athletics had tied the game in the ninth on Reggie Jackson's two-run homer.

Oakland's Rick Monday, who had equalled Lou Gehrig's AL record of RBI in 10 consecutive games, was shut out by Rudy May and winner Hoyt Wilhelm. Monday went 0-for-3 and never batted with a runner on base.

Joe Foy's run-scoring single in the 12th sent the Royals past Chicago, extending the White Sox' losing string to four games. The Royals caught the Sox in the ninth, when Jack Hernandez singled, took second on left fielder Carlos May's bobble and scored the tying run on a two-out single by pinch hitter Bob Taylor.

May and Don Pavletich homered for the White Sox.

Del Unser's two-run single in the sixth sparked the Senators to their seventh victory in eight starts after Frank Howard tied the game 5-5 in the fifth with his ninth homer.

Ken McMullen hit a two-run homer for the Senators, who vaulted into second place in the East Division, 2½ games behind front-running Baltimore.

Pitcher Don Wilson of the struggling Houston Astros rubbed shoulders with baseball's elite for the second time in his career today all because of bitterness toward the Cincinnati Reds and a burning desire to get even.

Wilson blazed his right-handed slants past the Reds Thursday night for a brilliant no-hit, 4-0 victory and then said bluntly: "I don't like them."

"I wanted to pay them back for what they did to us when they beat me 14-0" on April 22 at Houston's Astrodome. "They stuck out their tongues at us. They laughed at us."

"They embarrassed us... I was pretty strongly motivated not only for the win but to get to the no-hitter. I wanted to prove to them we are professionals, too."

It was the second no-hitter at Cincinnati's Crosley Field in 24 hours. Only Wednesday night, the Reds' Jim Maloney had blanked the Astros—on hits and runs—10-0.

Wilson's performance took the spotlight quickly off of the Los Angeles Dodgers' Don Sutton, who in an afternoon game at San Francisco just missed a no-hitter when Jim Davenport doubled for the lone Giants hit with one out in the eighth. The Dodgers won 5-0. In other NL games, Montreal nipped New York 3-2, St. Louis clobbered Pittsburgh 9-3 and San Diego edged Atlanta 4-3.

In the American League, Detroit shut out Baltimore 2-0, Washington outscored Boston 7-6, Cleveland downed New York 6-2, Kansas City beat Chicago 5-4 in 12 innings, Minnesota defeated Seattle 4-1 and California edged Oakland 3-2 in 10 innings.

Wilson said Thursday night's no-hitter gave him "more personal satisfaction than my first one in Atlanta" as a rookie two years ago. He struck out 13 batters, walked six and hit one.

Only two Reds reached second. Johnny Bench walked and stole second in the second inning. Wilson was pinch hitter Jim Stewart and Pete Rose in the eighth.

His verbal blasts at the Reds brought this comment from Cincinnati Manager Dave Bristol: "I'm not a Don Wilson fan. I don't think many of our guys think much of Wilson either."

Astros Manager Harry Walker paused to compare the performances of both Wilson and Maloney.

"My man had a rougher time of it," Walker said, "because he was under pressure all the way. He had not won on the road this year, and he did not have a big lead like Maloney."

Doug Rader put Wilson ahead in the fourth with a home run. Dennis Menke's double scored two more runs in the fifth. The three young ladies, with a unique idea of revenge.

Astros got their last run in the eighth on Curt Blefary's triple and Wilson's sacrifice fly. Wilson's record now is 2-3.

Wilson, 24-25 in his brief career with the Astros going into this season, has had startling success against the Reds in the past. Last July 14, he tied the major league record by striking out 18 Cincinnati batters.

This was only the second time in baseball history two consecutive no-hitters have been pitched in the same park involving the same clubs. The Giants' Gaylord Perry beat St. Louis 1-0 last Sept. 17 in a night game at San Francisco. The Cardinals' Ray Washburn got a 2-0 no-hit triumph over the Giants the next afternoon.

Ann Landers

Loud Music Can Cause Deafness

Dear Ann Landers: Last night my 16-year-old granddaughter gave a party. There were at least 30 teen-agers in the house. They rolled back the rugs, moved all the furniture on the porch and played music for dancing. I didn't see any dancing — just some catatonic, zombie-like motions and a lot of jerking and shaking.

What disturbed me more than anything was the music. It gave me a splitting headache. The kids these days insist on turning up the stereo amplifier as high as it will go. It virtually assaults the eardrums.

I notice that our teen-age grandchildren do not hear their parents when they speak in normal conversational tones. Unless instructions are screamed they are ignored. I think the kids are actually deaf. My husband says, "There's nothing wrong with their hearing. They hear when they want to."

Tell me, Ann, is it possible that our teen-agers are becoming hard of hearing because of the loud music they seem to idolize? If so, someone should tell them. — Antique Ada

Dear Ann: Someone has told them. Ear specialists are deeply concerned and have said so. It has been proved that loud music produces serious hearing problems among the young. Several cases of permanent deafness among musicians have been noted. So take heed, kids, and turn down the volume. Do you hear me out there? I SAY — TURN DOWN THE VOLUME!!!!!!

Dear Ann Landers: My mother is 53 and looks 40. After Dad died two years ago Mum started to go with a divorced man who is about five years her junior. Barry is handsome, charming, allergic to work in any form and, in my opinion, rotten to the core.

I've seen Barry around town with at least three different chippies. Of course I've never mentioned it to anyone. About a month ago Mum and I ran into Barry and a trollop, or should I say THEY ran into us. Literally, I was parking the car and Barry's car sideswiped us. No one was hurt but Mom fell apart when she saw them (Barry was supposed to be out of town.)

Since that night Mum has had stomach pains and has been doctoring to beat the band. She's had x-rays, is taking pills and sedatives and is on a special diet. Her doctor can't find anything wrong with her. I know she is tied up in knots over her love affair which is going haywire.

Should I make an appointment to see the Doctor and tell him the background before she quits him and goes to another doctor who might take out her gall bladder? — Worried Daughter

Dear Daughter: It is extremely helpful to the physician if he knows something about the patient's emotional problems. I suggest that you write the doctor a note. An appointment would take up valuable time which could be spent with a patient.

Mother's Day Tea is Planned

Mrs. Gloria Meredith was hostess for the April 28 meeting and installation of officers of Epsilon Beta Chapter 3744.

President, Barbara Blaschke, presided and members began the meeting by repeating the opening ritual in unison.

A thank you note from Missouri Girls Town was read by Mary Holloway.

The Mother's Day Tea will be held May 12 at Holiday Inn. Reports on the Founders Day dinner and dance were given.

Committees and their chairmen for the year are ways and means, Mary Holloway; program, Shirley Pummill; membership, Nancy Brown; social, Barbara Blaschke; service, Judi Moriarty; flowers and cards, Frances Green; telephone, Christine Sanford and publicity, Marlis Stevens.

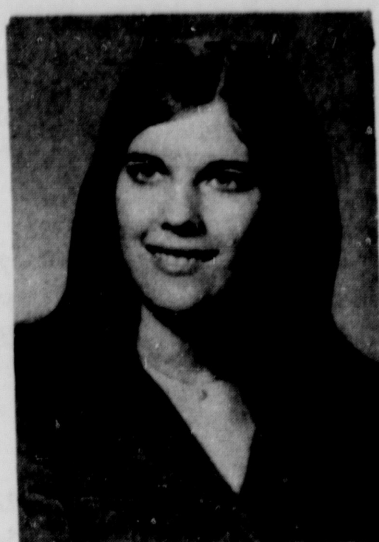

Guest speaker was Mrs. Henderickson from the Pettis County Division of Welfare, Child Welfare Department, who spoke about her work and the department.

The next meeting will be May 26.

Co-editors For Archives At Smith-Cotton Chosen

Georgia Edmondson

Trish Cummings

Miss Georgia Edmondson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Edmondson, 3002 South Ohio, and Miss Trish Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cummings, 2505 Highland, were selected co-editors of the 1969-70 Smith-Cotton High School Archives staff, Richard Cooper, faculty sponsor, has announced.

Georgia is a member of Future Homemakers, National Honor Society, Latin Club and Junior Classical League, and is the newly elected parliamentarian of Spiz for next year. She is a member of First Christian Church and was assistant business manager of this year's Archives staff.

The other co-editor of the '69-70 staff, Trish Cummings, brings an artistic touch to the position, having been an artist on this year's staff. Her activities include Spiz, Drill Team, Journalism Club and Spanish Club. She is a member of First United Methodist Church.

Clam Hunt Put Off Due to a Low Tide

OCEAN SHORES, Wash. (AP) — The third annual International Clam Prix has been postponed to May 18 from May 4, Curlyfeek Sarkvogel, chairman of the event's bivalve board, announced Wednesday. Sarkvogel said a low tide on the original date would have made the clam hunt as unimportant as "shooting deer in an apple orchard with a bazooka."

Doesn't Want to Rush

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A young, unmarried mother of seven children appeared before a Superior Court judge Wednesday seeking child support for her latest baby. "Why don't you two get married?" Judge Edward Hughes asked when he learned the same man was the father of all seven children. "Your honor, I don't think he's ready," the woman replied.

Italians Within the Curia Dislike Frenchman's Rise

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A hard-working, chain-smoking Frenchman, Jean Cardinal Villot, has risen to the second highest post in the Roman Catholic Church after only two years at the Vatican. Italians in the Curia aren't happy about it.

Pope Paul VI named Cardinal Villot, 63, Vatican secretary of state Wednesday. The former archbishop of Lyon succeeded Amleto Cardinal Cicognani, 86, who retired because of age and ill health.

The post is the Church's equivalent of a prime minister as well as its foreign minister. Cardinal Villot is the first non-Italian to be named secretary of state in 55 years, since a Spaniard held the post from 1903 to 1914.

Italian prelates at the Vatican expressed both disappointment and fear. Many were bitter because the Pope had passed over such Italian cardinals with diplomatic backgrounds as Paolo Cardinal Bertoli, former nuncio to France, and Sebastiano Cardinal Baggio, former nuncio to Brazil.

Though he had a distinguished career in the French episcopacy before coming to the Vatican in 1967, Cardinal Villot has never held a diplomatic post. He is the first churchman in modern times who had no diplomatic experience before moving into the post which oversees the Vatican's embassies around the world.

One Italian prelate dismissed the appointment as another gesture by Pope Paul to give the Church administration an international look. He suggested that the Pope would run things and Cardinal Villot would be a mere "letter signer."

Other Vatican officials, however, were fearful of a growing group of French prelates operating in the Vatican power structure. They reported that Italian members of the Curia, angered by the appointment, had leaked the cardinal's appointment earlier this week to create embarrassment at the Vatican.

Cardinal Villot came to the Vatican as prefect of the Sacred Congregation for the Clergy, the department chiefly concerned with the unrest which has been sweeping the priestly ranks. Although known in France as a progressive, the bespectacled, gray-haired prelate has been a staunch defender of the doctrine of priestly celibacy and an opponent of any major change in the role of the priest.

"He is no revolutionary, but he is open to renewal," said one French prelate at the Vatican.

He was elevated to cardinal in 1965, and two years later Pope Paul named him to preside over the Synod of Bishops created after the Vatican Council to advise the Pope.

A smoker of France's strong Gaulois cigarettes, Villot is in good health and is expected to take over much of the work which aides handled for ailing Cardinal Cicognani.

Six Lawyers Receive New Law Degrees

Six Sedalia lawyers were among approximately 775 graduates of the University of Missouri-Columbia School of Law who were recently awarded a new degree by their alma mater.

In an informal ceremony in Jesse Auditorium during annual Law Day activities, Dr. A. G. Unklesbay, University vice-president for administration, conferred the Doctor of Jurisprudence degree upon those alumni who requested the new diploma to replace the LL. B. diploma they had received upon graduation.

Until 1965 the School of Law at UMC awarded the Bachelor of Law degree. In changing to the J.D., the school took the position that its graduates were entitled to a degree with doctoral status to distinguish their professional degree from the undergraduate bachelor degree.

Lawyers from Sedalia who received the degree were Donald Barnes, 700 South Park; James J. Buckley, 309 East Fifth; James E. Durley, 110 East Fifth; Robert Scott Gardner, 320 South Ohio; Leo Job Harned, 2514 Anderson; and John C. McCloskey, 309 East Fifth.

Pre-School Mothers Plan Open House

The Presbyterian Cooperative Pre-school mothers met April 28 at the home of Mrs. James Burkeholder, 2002 South Kentucky.

Plans for the May 20 open house were discussed. Mrs. Duane Slagel, head teacher, requested that parents bring some of their children's art work that they have done at school for display at the open house.

Mother-helper officers are Mrs. Garry Eicholtz, chairman; Mrs. Jimmy Harris, secretary-editor; Mrs. Earl Mahin, housekeeping; Mrs. A. T. Dorsey, admissions and Mrs. James Burkeholder, equipment. Members of the pre-school board are Mrs. Lowell Hesterlee, chairman; Mrs. Richard Parkhurst, treasurer and Mrs. James Burkeholder, secretary.

The evening program was a film classic on normal child behavior, "The Frustrating Fours and the Fascinating Fives."
